Television Program Master Index:

Television Program Master Index Charles V. Dintrone, 1996 Television history has become one of the hottest areas of research in popular culture Because the field is relatively new and so wide ranging no matter what one is researching much of the relevant material will be found scattered through numerous other works frustrating scholarly progress This work makes the television researcher's job easier by providing a single index to 341 books that include information on 1 002 shows Most of the books deal exclusively with television though some autobiographies biographies Congressional hearings and works on communication and the media are also indexed For a show to be included it must have been carried on NBC CBS ABC or Fox and must have been a series Shows on PBS are generally not included though exceptions have been made for Sesame Street and Mister Rogers Neighborhood Television Series and Specials Scripts, 1946-1992, 2009-10-21 In the early days of television many of its actors writers producers and directors came from radio This crossover endowed the American Radio Archives with a treasure trove of television documents The collected scripts span more than 40 years of American television history from live broadcasts of the 1940s to the late 1980s They also cover the entire spectrum of television entertainment programming including comedies soap operas dramas westerns and crime series The archives cover nearly 1 200 programs represented by more than 6 000 individual scripts Includes an index of personal names program and episode titles and production companies as well as a glossary of industry terms Mass Communications Research

Resources Christopher H. Sterling, James K. Bracken, Susan B. Hill, 2016-05-06 This reference book is designed as a road map for researchers who need to find specific information about American mass communication as expeditiously as possible Taking a topical approach it integrates publications and organizations into subject focused chapters for easy user reference The editors define mass communication to include print journalism and electronic media and the processes by which they communicate messages to their audiences Included are newspaper magazine radio television cable and newer electronic media industries Within that definition this volume offers an indexed inventory of more than 1 400 resources on most aspects of American mass communication history technology economics content audience research policy and regulation The material featured represents the carefully considered judgment of three experts two of them librarians plus four contributors from different industry venues The primary focus is on the domestic American print and electronic media industries Although there is no claim to a complete census of all materials on print journalism and electronic media what is available is now too vast for any single guide the most important and useful items are here The emphasis is on material published since 1980 though useful older resources are included as well Each chapter is designed to stand alone providing the most important and useful resources of a primary nature organizations and documents as well as secondary books and reports In addition online resources and internet citations are included where possible The A to Z of African-American Television Kathleen Fearn-Banks, 2009-08-04 From Amos n Andy to The Jeffersons to Family Matters to Chappelle's Show this volume covers it all

Index ,1996 A world list of books in the English language Historical Dictionary of African American Television

American themes and African American casts This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about the history of African Americans and their impact on television Teletext Leonard R.

Architecture is more than buildings and architects It also involves photographers writers advertisers and broadcasters as well as the people who finance and live in the buildings Using the career of the critic J M Richards as a lens this book takes a new perspective on modern architecture Richards served as editor of The Architectural Review from 1937 to 1971 during which time he consistently argued that modernism was integrally linked to vernacular architecture not through style but through the principle of being an anonymous expression of a time and public spirit Exploring the continuities in Richards s ideas throughout his career disrupts the existing canon of architectural history which has focused on abrupt changes linked to individual pioneers encouraging us to think again about who is studied in architectural history and how they are researched
