Damico, Sara E. Quay, 2016-02-12 In its exploration of some of the most influential popular or critically acclaimed television dramas since the year 2000 this book documents how modern television dramas reflect our society through their complex narratives about prevailing economic political security and social issues Television dramas have changed since the turn of the 21st century for the good many would say as a result of changes in technology the rise of cable networks and increased creative freedom This book approaches the new golden age of television dramas by examining the programs that define the first 15 years of the new century through their complex narratives high production value star power popularity and enthusiastic fan culture After an introduction that sets the stage for the book's content thematic sections present concise chapters that explore key connections between television dramas and elements of 21st century culture The authors explore Downton Abbey as a distraction from contemporary class struggles patriarchy and the past in Game of Thrones and Mad Men and portrayals of the dark hero protagonist in The Sopranos Dexter and Breaking Bad as a few examples of the book's coverage With its multidisciplinary perspectives on a variety of themes terrorism race class gender family dynamics and sociopolitical and socioeconomic topics this book will be relevant across the social sciences and cultural and media studies courses Danish

Television Drama Anne Marit Waade, Eva Novrup Redvall, Pia Majbritt Jensen, 2020-08-04 This book explores how to understand the international appeal of Danish television drama and Nordic Noir in the 2010s Focusing on production and distribution as well as the series and their reception the chapters analyse how this small nation production culture was suddenly regarded as an example of best practice in the international television industries and how the distribution and branding of particular series such as Forbrydelsen The Killing Borgen and Bron The Bridge led to dedicated audiences around the world Discussing issues such as cultural proximity transnationalism and glocalisation the chapters investigate the complex interplays between the national and international in the television industries and the global lessons learned from the way in which screen ideas production frameworks and public service content from Denmark suddenly managed to travel widely The book builds on extensive empirical material and case studies conducted as part of the transnational research project What Makes Danish Television Drama Travel The Columbia History of American Television Gary Richard Edgerton, 2007 Richly researched and engaging The Columbia History of American Television tracks the growth of TV into a convergent technology a global industry a social catalyst a viable art form and a complex and dynamic reflection of the American mind and character Renowned media historian Gary R Edgerton follows the technological progress and increasing cultural relevance of television from its prehistory before 1947 to the Network Era 1948 1975 and the Cable Era 1976 1994 He considers the remodeling of television's look and purpose during World War II the gender racial and ethnic components of its early broadcasts and audiences its transformation of postwar America and its function in the political life of the country In conclusion Edgerton takes a discerning look at our current Digital Era and the new forms of instantaneous communication that continue to change America's social political and economic landscape Television and Serial Adaptation Shannon Wells-Lassagne, 2017-01-20 As American television continues to garner considerable esteem rivaling the seventh art in its cinematic aesthetics and the complexity of its narratives one aspect of its development has been relatively unexamined While film has long acknowledged its tendency to adapt an ability that contributed to its status as narrative art capable of translating canonical texts onto the screen television adaptations have seemingly been relegated to the miniseries or classic serial From remakes and reboots to transmedia storytelling loose adaptations or adaptations which last but a single episode

the recycling of pre existing narrative is a practice that is just as common in television as in film and this text seeks to rectify that oversight examining series from M A S H to Game of Thrones Pride and Prejudice to Castle
