The Fate Of Place A Philosophical History

Stefania Michelucci

The Fate Of Place A Philosophical History:

The Fate of Place Edward Casey, 1998-11-25 In this imaginative and comprehensive study Edward Casey one of the most incisive interpreters of the Continental philosophical tradition offers a philosophical history of the evolving conceptualizations of place and space in Western thought Not merely a presentation of the ideas of other philosophers The Fate of Place is acutely sensitive to silences absences and missed opportunities in the complex history of philosophical approaches to space and place A central theme is the increasing neglect of place in favor of space from the seventh century A D onward amounting to the virtual exclusion of place by the end of the eighteenth century Casey begins with mythological and religious creation stories and the theories of Plato and Aristotle and then explores the heritage of Neoplatonic medieval and Renaissance speculations about space He presents an impressive history of the birth of modern spatial conceptions in the writings of Newton Descartes Leibniz and Kant and delineates the evolution of twentieth century phenomenological approaches in the work of Husserl Merleau Ponty Bachelard and Heidegger In the book's final section Casey explores the postmodern theories of Foucault Derrida Tschumi Deleuze and Guattari and Irigaray

The Archive of Place William Turkel, 2011-11-01 The Archive of Place weaves together a series of narratives about environmental history in a particular location British Columbia's Chilcotin Plateau In the mid 1990s the Chilcotin was at the centre of three territorial conflicts Opposing groups in their struggle to control the fate of the region and its resources invoked different understandings of its past and different types of evidence to justify their actions These controversies serve as case studies as William Turkel examines how people interpret material traces to reconstruct past events the conditions under which such interpretation takes place and the role that this interpretation plays in historical consciousness and social memory It is a wide ranging and original study that extends the span of conventional historical research

An Architecture of Place Randall S. Lindstrom, 2024-06-25 Challenging mainstream architecture's understandings of place this book offers an illuminating clarification that allows the idea's centrality in all aspects of everyday design thinking to be rediscovered or considered for the first time Rigorous but not dense practical but not trivialising the book unfolds on three fronts First it clearly frames the pertinent aspects of topology the philosophy of place importantly differentiating two concepts that architecture regularly conflates place and space Second it rejects the ubiquitous notion that architecture makes place and instead reasons that place is what makes architecture and the built environment possible that place calls for and to architecture and that architecture is thus invited to listen and respond Finally it turns to the matter of designing responses that result not just in more places of architecture demanding little of design nor merely in architecture with some sense of place demanding little more but rising above those responses that constitute an architecture of place demanding the greatest vigilance but offering the utmost freedom Opening up a term regarded as so common that its meaning is seldom considered the author reveals the actual depth and richness of place its innateness to architecture and its essentiality to practitioners clients educators and students including those in all spatial disciplines Place-Based Education in the Global Age David A. Gruenewald, Gregory A. Smith, 2014-01-21 Polished clear insightful and meaningful This volume amounts to nothing less than a complete rethinking of what progressive education can be at its best and how education can be reconceptualized as one of the central practices of a genuinely democratic and sustainable society It is the kind of book that has the potential to be transformative Stephen Preskill University of New Mexico The editors and contributors are pioneers in the field of educational theory policy and philosophy They are opening new areas of inquiry and educational reform in ways that promise to make this book in very short time into a classic The practical applications and experiments included reveal the richness of grassroots initiatives already underway to bring educational theory and policy down to earth While spanning the richest and deepest intellectual ideas and concepts the stories told are the types that practitioners and teachers will be able to relate to in their daily undertakings Madhu Suri Prakash The Pennsylvania State University This volume a landmark contribution to the burgeoning theory and practice of place based education enriches the field in three ways First it frames place based pedagogy not just as an alternative teaching methodology or novel approach to environmental education but as part of a broader social movement known as the New localism which aims toward reclaiming the significance of the local in the global age Second it links the development of ecological awareness and stewardship to concerns about equity and cultural diversity Third it presents examples of place based education in action The relationship between the new localism and place based education is clarified and the process of making connections between learners and their wider communities is demonstrated The book is organized around three themes Reclaiming Broader Meanings of Education Models for Place Based Learning and Global Visions of the Local in Higher Education This is a powerfully relevant volume for researchers teacher educators and students across the fields of curriculum theory educational foundations critical pedagogy multicultural education and environmental education

Mediated Identities in the Futures of Place: Emerging Practices and Spatial Cultures Lakshmi Priya Rajendran, NezHapi Dellé Odeleye, 2020-01-02 This book examines the emerging problems and opportunities that are posed by media innovations spatial typologies and cultural trends in re shaping identities within the fast changing milieus of the early 21st Century Addressing a range of social and spatial scales and using a phenomenological frame of reference the book draws on the works of Heidegger Merleau Ponty and Don Ihde to bridge the seemingly disparate yet related theoretical perspectives across a number of disciplines Various perspectives are put forward from media human geography cultural studies technologies urban design and architecture etc and looked at thematically from networked culture and digital interface and other perspectives The book probes the ways in which new digital media trends affect how and what we communicate and how they drive and reshape our everyday practices This mediatization of space with fast evolving communication platforms and applications of digital representations offers challenges to our notions of space identity and culture and the book explores the diverse yet connected levels of technology and people interaction Space and Place in the Works of D.H.

Lawrence Stefania Michelucci,2015-10-02 Originally published in Italian as L orizzonte mobile spazio e luoghi nella narrativa di D H Lawrence in 1998 this critical study analyzes the work of D H Lawrence in light of new theories about space and location or place and community This approach is especially useful in examining Lawrence as place and space are central aspects of all of his work The introductory chapter explains the theoretical premises drawing extensively from anthropology especially insofar as the relationship between culture and nature or community and place are concerned This chapter also offers theories based on semiotics sociological concerns and recent research in human geography and environmentalism Succeeding chapters analyze functional aspects of place and space in D H Lawrence s work Lawrence s major novels and stories provide the main focus of this book but attention is also paid to lesser known texts both fiction and nonfiction This work provides a new approach to studies on D H Lawrence opening up new insights for both scholars and students alike

Delius and the Sound of Place Daniel M. Grimley,2018-12-06 Offers a radical and interdisciplinary analysis that will transform readers understanding of this deeply compelling early twentieth century composer Scribes of Space Matthew Boyd Goldie,2019-03-15 Scribes of Space posits that the conception of space the everyday physical areas we perceive and through which we move underwent critical transformations between the thirteenth and fifteenth centuries Matthew Boyd Goldie examines how natural philosophers theologians poets and other thinkers in late medieval Britain altered the ideas about geographical space they inherited from the ancient world In tracing the causes and nature of these developments and how geographical space was consequently understood Goldie focuses on the intersection of medieval science theology and literature deftly bringing a wide range of writings scientific works by Nicole Oresme Jean Buridan the Merton School of Oxford Calculators and Thomas Bradwardine spiritual poetic and travel writings by John Lydgate Robert Henryson Margery Kempe the Mandeville author and Geoffrey Chaucer into conversation This pairing of physics and literature uncovers how the understanding of spatial boundaries locality elevation motion and proximity shifted across time signaling the emergence of a new spatial imagination during this era The Place of the Spirit Sarah Morice-Brubaker,2013-09-17 Is there any way to talk theologically about the Trinity and place What might the placedness of creation have to do with God s triunity In The Place of the Spirit Sarah Morice Brubaker considers how anxieties about place have influenced Trinitarian theology both what it is asked to do and the language in which it is expressed When one is nervous about collapsing God into created horizons she suggests one is apt to come up with a model of trinity that refuses place Distance becomes a primary way of situating the divine persons in relation to each other Conversely those theologians who wish to avoid a too remote God likewise recruit Trinitarian language to suit that purpose They too give that language a placial gloss expressing triunity in terms of coinherence and mutual indwelling And yet suggests Morice Brubaker the question What is place and how can one talk about God and place is underdetermined within much contemporary Trinitarian thought Thankfully this question has received full on attention in other areas of ethics philosophy and systematic theology This book calls for Trinitarian thought to avail itself of those insights and offers some ways in which it may do so One Place after Another Miwon Kwon, 2004-02-27 A critical history of site specific art since the late 1960s Site specific art emerged in the late 1960s in reaction to the growing commodification of art and the prevailing ideals of art's autonomy and universality Throughout the 1970s and 1980s as site specific art intersected with land art process art performance art conceptual art installation art institutional critique community based art and public art its creators insisted on the inseparability of the work and its context In recent years however the presumption of unrepeatability and immobility encapsulated in Richard Serra's famous dictum to remove the work is to destroy the work is being challenged by new models of site specificity and changes in institutional and market forces One Place after Another offers a critical history of site specific art since the late 1960s and a theoretical framework for examining the rhetoric of aesthetic vanguardism and political progressivism associated with its many permutations Informed by urban theory postmodernist criticism in art and architecture and debates concerning identity politics and the public sphere the book addresses the siting of art as more than an artistic problem It examines site specificity as a complex cipher of the unstable relationship between location and identity in the era of late capitalism The book addresses the work of among others John Ahearn Mark Dion Andrea Fraser Donald Judd Renee Green Suzanne Lacy Inigo Mangano Ovalle Richard Serra Mierle Laderman Ukeles and Fred Wilson
