The Federal Polity A Publius Publication:

Federalist Government in Principle and Practice Donald P. Racheter, Richard E. Wagner, 2012-12-06 Federalism has generally been characterized as a system of government that is friendly to liberty. It is not obvious though why this should be so. Federalism is a form of government where citizens simultaneously reside in at least two governments each of which has independent authority to tax and to regulate. By contrast in a unitary form of government citizens face only one government with independent authority to tax and regulate. At first glance it would seem a bit strange to claim that liberty is more secure when citizens are members of two governments with independent authority than when they are members of only one such government. The relationship between federalism and liberty turns out to be a complex one and one that is capable of working in either direction. Whether federalism supports or erodes liberty depends importantly on the institutional framework within which federalist governance takes place. The essays in Federalist Government in Principle and Practice examine this institutionalist theme from both theoretical and practical perspectives. Public Opinion and Interest Group Politics Heather A. Thuynsma, 2012 Pt 1 Public opinion and interest group politics around the world instructive insight. Special interests and how they help shape US legislation interesting possibilities or potential pitfalls Fundraising for social change in the US interest group advocacy in contemporary US elections Interest groups in the German political system advice for South Africa Pt 2 Public opinion and interest group politics in South Africa comparing perspectives Understanding the South African political psyche The character of the South African state the self understanding of the ANC as government and its impact on the public space The methodology of polling public opinion in South Africa measuring the pulse of the people Managing public opinion during the 2009 South African elections The possibilities of election campaigns as sites for political advocacy South Africa in comparative perspective Challenges for interest groups and their advocacy campaigns the case of sustainable medium density housing An interest group at work environmental activism and the case of acid mine drainage on Johannesburg's West Rand Pt 3 Championing public opinion a future for interest groups Managing campaigns to influence the public policy agenda putting theory into practice Advocacy and financing that shapes and shifts public opinion Government and access effects on the use of social networking sites by nationwide NGOs in the US South Africa and Mexico The ability of social movements to affect policy change in South Africa and the United States comparing and contrasting key elements of HIV/AIDS treatment and welfare entitlement campaigns Beyond appeasement the real business agenda Democracy without choice Interest groups advocacy and political behaviour in Namibia a warning for South Africa
