The First Revolution In China A Theory:

The First Revolution in China Ronald Ye-lin Cheng, 1973 Chinese Discourses on the Peasant, 1900-1949 Xiaorong Han, 2012-02-01 Xiaorong Han explores how Chinese intellectuals envisioned the peasantry and its role in changing society during the first half of the twentieth century Politically motivated intellectuals both Communist and non Communist believed that rural peasants and their villages would be at the heart of change during this long period of national crisis Nevertheless intellectuals saw themselves as the true shapers of change who would transform and use the peasantry Han uses intellectuals writings to provide a comprehensive look at their views of the peasantry He shows how intellectuals with varying politics created images of the peasant a supposed contemporary image and an ideal image of the peasant transformed for political ends how intellectuals theorized on the nature of Chinese rural life and how intellectuals conceived their own relationships with peasants The Theory and Practice of Communism, (People's Republic of China), Hearings ..., 93-1 ... United States. Congress. House Internal Security, 1973 Encyclopedia of Political Theory Mark Bevir, 2010-03-18 How do we arrange our collective affairs Why do we live together in the ways we do How ought we to live together All humans think about the world they live in its history and future and the ideals by which they want to live in relation to others How we think today decisively influences the world of tomorrow This encyclopedia attempts to bring greater clarity and understanding to political debate Drawing together a team of international scholars the Encyclopedia of Political Theory examines the ideas of the major political theorists from before Plato to our own times the main schools of political thought the concepts and issues that have captured the imagination and attention of political theorists and some of the main institutions and practices inspired by political thought With more than 450 entries these three volumes provide a quick one stop source to key topics in the field Key Features Examines the global landscape of all the key theories and the theorists behind them Includes specific lists of entries that deal with constitutional thought and democratic thought Refers to distinctive norms and features of various governments legal systems and societies Devotes large parts to the history of ideas about government ethics and society Provides a chronology of political theory to help readers see how a given theorist school or issue fits into the bigger historical picture Key Themes Ancient Thought Applied Ethics Biographies Comparative Theory Constitutional Thought Critical Theory Democratic Thought Early Modern Thought International Theory Justice Liberal Theory Medieval Thought Modern Theory Power and Authority Religious Thought Self and Community This work is designed to serve as a reference source for anyone interested in the roots of contemporary political theory It will be a welcome addition to any academic or public library Science & Technology in China: A Roadmap to 2050 , 2009-09-30 China's modernization is viewed as a transformative revolution in the human history of modernization As such the Chinese Academy of Sciences CAS decided to give higher priority to the research on the science and technology S T roadmap for priority areas in China's modernization process What is the purpose And why is it Is it a must I think those are substantial and significant questions to start things forward Significance of the Research on China's S T Roadmap to 2050 We are aware that the National Mid and Long term S T Plan to 2020 has already been formed after two years hard work by a panel of over 2000 experts and scholars brought together from all over China chaired by Premier Wen Jiabao This clearly shows that China has already had its S T blueprint to 2020 Ten why did CAS conduct this research on China's S T roadmap to 2050 In the summer of 2007 when CAS was working out its future strategic priorities for S T development it realized that some issues such as energy must be addressed with a long term view As a matter of fact some strategic researches have been conducted over the last 15 years on energy but mainly on how to best use of coal how to best exploit both domestic and international oil and gas resources and how to develop nuclear energy in a discreet way Renewable energy was of course included but only as a supplementary energy

China in Revolution Mary Clabaugh Wright, 1968-01-01 Great themes run through this book local differentiation and societal integration reform and revolution innovation and renewal conservatism and radicalism tradition and modernity All relate to the fascinating dialectic of Chinese history This comment by G William Skinner aptly describes this pioneering volume in which twelve specialists in Chinese history discuss the great questions of history in the dramatic context of the New China of the early twentieth century The work of young scholars from seven countries who have had access to Chinese British and French archives opened only in recent years the book provides new findings that presage not only a reinterpretation of the Revolution of 1911 itself but also of the dynamic links between Imperial China and both the communist revolution of 1927-49 and the Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution of today An outstanding example of historians inquiries is this collection of essays by 12 authorities brilliantly edited by Mary Wright of Yale Brilliant because unlike most such cooperative endeavors the studies in this volume focus on a single major topic China in the years around the revolution of 1911 The papers vary in scope from a general interpretation of the origins of the warlord armies which were to dominate Chinese political life until the mid twenties to a fascinating reconstruction of events hour by hour during the first week of the revolution in the city where it began Wuchang This important work is bound to have a great impact on our understanding of modern China and will surely stimulate further research in the period New York Times Book Review Will set a style for ten to twenty years hence by all scholars of the subject John K Fairbank

Ideological Conflicts in Modern China Wen-Shun Chi, The State, Identity, and the National Question in China and Japan Germaine A. Hoston, 2021-02-09 The first decades of the twentieth century witnessed an explosion of nationalist sentiment in East Asia as in Europe This comprehensive work explores how radical Chinese and Japanese thinkers committed to social change in this turbulent era addressed issues concerning national identity social revolution and the role of the national state in achieving socio economic development Focusing on the adaptation of anarchism and then Marxism Leninism to non European contexts Germaine Hoston shows how Chinese and Japanese theorists attempted to reconcile a relatively new appreciation for the nation state with their allegiance to a vision of internationalist socialist revolution culminating in stateless socialism Given the influence of Western experience on Marxism Chinese and Japanese theorists found the Marxian national question to be not merely one of whether the working man has no country but rather the much more fundamental issue of the relative value of Eastern and Western cultures Marxism argues Hoston thus placed native Marxists in tension with their own heritage and national identity The author traces efforts to resolve this tension throughout the first half of the twentieth century and concludes by examining how the tension persists as Chinese and Japanese dissidents seek identity affirming modernity in accordance with the Western democratic model
