Neural Correlates of Consciousness Thomas Metzinger, 2000 This book brings together an international group of neuroscientists and philosophers who are investigating how the content of subjective experience is correlated with events in the brain The fundamental methodological problem in consciousness research is the subjectivity of the target phenomenon the fact that conscious experience under standard conditions is always tied to an individual first person perspective The core empirical question is whether and how physical states of the human nervous system can be mapped onto the content of conscious experience The search for the neural correlates of consciousness NCC has become a highly active field of investigation in recent years Methods such as single cell recording in monkeys and brain imaging and electrophysiology in humans applied to such phenomena as blindsight implicit explicit cognition and binocular rivalry have generated a wealth of data The same period has seen the development of a number of theories about NCC location This volume brings together the leading experimentalists and theoreticians in the field Topics include foundational and evolutionary issues global integration vision consciousness and the NMDA receptor complex neuroimaging implicit processes intentionality and phenomenal volition schizophrenia social cognition and the phenomenal self Contributors Jackie Andrade Ansgar Beckermann David J Chalmers Francis Crick Antonio R Damasio Gerald M Edelman Dominic ffytche Hans Flohr N P Franks Vittorio Gallese Melvyn A Goodale Valerie Gray Hardcastle Beena Khurana Christof Koch W R Lieb Erik D Lumer Thomas Metzinger Kelly J Murphy Romi Nijhawan Jo lle Proust Antti Revonsuo Gerhard Roth Thomas Schmidt Wolf Singer Giulio Tononi An Invitation to Cognitive Science Daniel N. Osherson, Don Scarborough, 1995 The chapters in this volume span many areas of cognitive science including artificial intelligence neural network models animal cognition signal detection theory computational models reaction time methods and cognitive neuroscience An Invitation to Cognitive Science provides a point of entry into the vast realm of cognitive science by treating in depth examples of issues and theories from many subfields The first three volumes of the series cover Language Visual Cognition and Thinking Volume 4 Methods Models and Conceptual Issues expands the series in new directions The chapters span many areas of cognitive science including artificial intelligence neural network models animal cognition signal detection theory computational models reaction time methods and cognitive neuroscience The volume also offers introductions to several general methods and theoretical approaches for analyzing the mind and shows how some of these approaches are applied in the development of quantitative models Rather than general and inevitably superficial surveys of areas the contributors present case studies detailed accounts of one or two achievements within an area The goal is to tell a good story challenging the reader to embark on an intellectual adventure
