Technology Of Killing A Military And Political History Of Antipersonnel Weapons:

The Technology of Killing Eric Prokosch,1995 Looks at the development and proliferation of anti personnel weapons

International Law, Politics, and Inhumane Weapons Alan Bryden,2013 This book contributes to contemporary debates on the effectiveness of international humanitarian law IHL in regulating or prohibiting inhumane weapons such as landmines Two treaties have emerged under IHL in response to the humanitarian scourge of landmines However despite a considerable body of related literature clear understandings have not been established on the effectiveness of these international legal frameworks in meeting the challenges that prompted their creation This book seeks to address this lacuna An analytical framework grounded in regime theory helps move beyond the limitations in the current literature through a structured focus on principles norms rules procedures actors and issue areas On the one hand this clarifies how political considerations determine opportunities and constraints in designing and implementing IHL regimes On the other it enables us to explore how and why ideal policy prescriptions are threatened when faced with complex challenges in post conflict contexts This book will be of much interest to students of international humanitarian law global governance human security and IR in general

Cluster Munitions and International Law Alexander Breitegger,2012-03-12 This book offers a comprehensive argument for why pre existing international law on cluster munitions was inadequate to deal with the full scope of humanitarian consequences associated with their use The book undertakes an interdisciplinary legal analysis of restraints and prohibitions on the use of cluster munitions under international humanitarian law human rights law and international criminal law as well as in relation to the recently adopted Convention on Cluster Munitions CCM The book goes on to offer an in depth substantive and procedural analysis of the negotiations which led to the 2008 CCM in part based on the author s experiences as an adviser to Cluster Munitions Coalition Austria Cluster Munitions and International Law is essential reading for practitioners and scholars of International Law including International Humanitarian Human Rights International Criminal or Disarmament Law and anyone interested in legal and humanitarian perspectives on cluster munitions legislation and policy It is unique in bringing a practitioner s perspective to a scholarly work

Sowing the Dragon's Teeth Philip C. Winslow,1998-10-01 Each year an estimated twenty six thousand people are killed or maimed by land mines more than 100 million of them sown like the mythical dragon s teeth in over seventy countries These weapons are designed to maim soldiers but most victims are civilians especially the rural poor Winslow writes about these people and the Campaign to Ban Landmines which was awarded The Nobel Peace Prize in 1997 He tells about the efforts to pull the dragon s teeth from the earth so that it can be restored to those who live on it

Crash Course H. Bruce Franklin,2018-09-03 Growing up during the Second World War H Bruce Franklin believed what he was told that America s victory would lead to a new era of world peace Like most Americans he was soon led to believe in a world wide Communist conspiracy that menaced the United States forcing the nation into a disastrous war in Korea But once he joined the U S Air Force and began flying top secret missions as a navigator and intelligence officer what he learned was eye opening He saw that even as the U S preached about peace and freedom it was engaging in an endless cycle of warfare bringing devastation and oppression to fledgling democracies across the globe Now after fifty years as a renowned cultural historian Franklin offers a set of hard learned lessons about modern American history Crash Course is essential reading for anyone who wonders how America ended up where it is today with a deeply divided and disillusioned populace led by a dysfunctional government and mired in unwinnable wars It also finds startling parallels between America s foreign military exploits and the equally brutal tactics used on the home front to crush organized labor antiwar and civil rights movements More than just a memoir or a history book Crash Course gives readers a unique firsthand look at the building of the American empire and the damage it has wrought Shocking and gripping as any thriller it exposes the endless deception of the American public and reveals from inside how and why many millions of Americans have been struggling for decades against our own government in a fight for peace and justice The Routledge Companion to Ethics John Skorupski,2010-06-21 The Routledge Companion to Ethics is an outstanding survey of the whole field of ethics by a distinguished international team of contributors Over 60 chapters are divided into six clear sections the history of ethics meta ethics perspectives from outside ethics ethical perspectives morality debates in ethics The Companion opens with a comprehensive historical overview of ethics including chapters on Plato Aristotle Hume and Kant and ethical thinking in China India and the Arabic tradition The second part covers the domain of meta ethics The third part covers important challenges to ethics from the fields of anthropology psychology sociobiology and economics The fourth and fifth sections cover competing theories of ethics and the nature of morality respectively with entries on consequentialism Kantian morality virtue ethics relativism evil and responsibility amongst many others A comprehensive final section includes the most important topics and controversies in applied ethics such as rights justice and distribution the end of life the environment poverty war and terrorism The Routledge Companion to Ethics is a superb resource for anyone interested in the subject whether in philosophy or related disciplines such as politics education or law Fully indexed and cross referenced with helpful further reading sections at the end of each chapter it is ideal for those coming to the field of ethics for the first time as well as readers already familiar with the subject When the Bombs Stopped Erin Lin,2024-05-21 How undetonated bombs from a war that ended more than fifty years ago still affect Cambodian farmers and their land Over the course of the Vietnam War the United States dropped 500 000 tons of bombs over Cambodia more than the combined weight of every man woman and child in the country What began as a secret CIA infiltration of Laos eventually expanded into Cambodia and escalated into a nine year war over the Ho Chi Minh trail fought primarily with bombs Fifty years after the last sortie residents of rural Cambodia are still coping with the unexploded ordnance that covers their land In When the Bombs Stopped Erin Lin investigates the consequences of the US bombing campaign across postconflict Cambodia Drawing on interviews original econometric analysis and extensive fieldwork Lin upends the usual scholarly perspective on the war and its aftermath presenting the viewpoint of those who suffered the bombing rather than those who dropped the bombs She shows that Cambodian farmers stay at a subsistence level because much of their land is too dangerous to cultivate and yet paradoxically the same bombs that endanger and impoverish farming communities also protect them deterring predatory elites from grabbing and commodifying their land Lin argues that the half century legacy of American bombs has sedimented the war into the layers of contemporary Cambodian society Policies aimed at developing or modernizing Cambodia whether economic liberalization or authoritarian consolidation must be realized in an environment haunted by the violence of the past As the stories Lin captures show the bombing served as a critical juncture in these farming villages marking the place in time where development stopped
