

TEXTUAL ANALYSIS

Textual analysis is a method used to interpret and understand written or spoken language to gain an understanding of meanings produced through text.

OVERVIEW

Textual analysis involves examining the structure, content, and context of a text to uncover its underlying meanings, themes, and patterns. This process typically involves identifying key ideas, analyzing the rhetorical strategies employed, and considering the cultural, historical, and social factors that may have influenced the text's creation.

EXAMPLE

- Analysis of policy documents: A scholar could analyze the policy documents of public companies to determine the evolving ways in which they approach, define, and prioritize Environmental and Social Responsibility as a key value of the companies. This could involve methods like thematic coding and word frequency analysis.

Television Studies Textual Analysis:

Television Studies Gary Burns, Robert J. Thompson, 1989 Television Studies Jonathan Gray, Amanda D. Lotz, 2019-01-15 Television Studies provides an overview of the origins central ideas and intellectual traditions of this exciting field What have been the primary areas of inquiry in television studies Why and how did these areas develop How have scholars studied them How are they developing What have been the discipline s key works This book answers these questions by tracing the history of television studies right up to the digital present surveying emerging scholarship and addressing new questions about the field s relationship with the digital The second edition includes an examination of how internet distributed services such as Netflix have adjusted the stories industrial practices and audience experience of television For all those wondering how to study television or even why to study television this new edition of Television Studies will provide a clear and engaging overview of key topics The book works as a stand alone introduction and by placing key works in a broader context can also provide an excellent basis for an entire course Television Studies Gary C. Burns, Robert Thompson, 1989-03-27 Burns and Thompson help to remedy the lack of a forum for current research on television by bringing together in this volume some of the best recent research in television studies This work will begin to fill the gap in literature on television studies as a discipline In compiling these 13 papers the editors maintain a balance of timely interest and lasting relevance The contributors study the texts of current TV dramatic and comic series such as Dallas and Cheers as well as current trends in nonfiction TV such as network and local news coverage Each analysis of a specific television text is complimented with rigorous theoretical argumentation Students and scholars of communications and television criticism will find Television Studies valuable reading The book begins with a two chapter debate primarily seeking a definition of television studies The debate includes a critical examination of the capitalist institutions that dominate television as an industry Further chapters discuss dramatic television series an examination of the development of the lengthy serial text of Dallas and structural analysis of the pilot episode of Cheers The book contains five essays on nonfiction television including an insiders view of the production and promotion of local TV news and an analysis of CBS and ABC s TV news coverage of South Africa over a two week period in 1987 In a final essay conventional wisdom about the audience is refuted Film and Television Textual Analysis Keith McDonald, 2008-03 Film and TV Textual Analysis provides the film media studies and English teacher with a comprehensive introduction to the subject and a range of approaches to teaching the analysis of the moving image The Teacher s Guide introduces the key concepts and the analytical tool required and explores ways in which they can be applied to the study of the media and film in the classroom This Guide is structured in three parts an introduction to the core concepts practices and terminologies an exploration of the ideas issues and debates that stem from textual analysis including representation genre and ideology and an introduction to the key theories and critical approaches including feminist theory Marxism structuralism and auteur theory Throughout a range of popular and accessible case studies show textual analysis and film and media theory in practice including The Matrix Reloaded Six Feet Under Moulin Rouge and Ken Loach's Sweet Sixteen An Introduction to Television Studies Jonathan Bignell, 2012-08-06

In this comprehensive textbook newly updated for its second edition Jonathan Bignell provides students with a framework for understanding the key concepts and main approaches to Television Studies including audience research television history and broadcasting policy and the analytical study of individual programmes Features for the second edition include a glossary of key terms key terms defined in margins suggestions for further reading at the end of each chapter activities for use in class or as assignments new and updated case studies discussing advertisements such as the Guinness Surfer ad approaches to news reporting television scheduling and programmes such as Big Brother and Wife Swap Individual chapters address studying television television histories television cultures television texts and narratives television and genre television production postmodern television television realities television representation television you can't see shaping audiences television in everyday life

The Subject of Television Jessica Edwards, 2016 This thesis approaches televisual texts and the scholarly practice of textual analysis via the politics of subjectivity Because subjects are formed in symbolic and representational systems that pre-exist them subjectivity is an inherently political phenomenon bound up in questions of power relations and meaning Televisual texts it is argued form part of these representational systems however texts can also be understood as being created in the viewing encounter as subjects imbue objects in their field of vision with meaning This mutual indebtedness of subject and text indicates that textual analysis can also be seen as an inherently politicised form of scholarship Drawing on the theoretical frameworks of Lacanian psychoanalysis and Foucauldian poststructuralism this thesis begins by arguing that images gazes and visual experience are both beholden to and constitutive of subjectivity The key themes from this discussion of subjectivity visual history spectatorship intersubjectivity are then proposed as key questions for an approach to televisual textual analysis called subject oriented textual analysis This approach provides opportunities for textual analysis distinct from psychoanalytic film theory which cannot be imported wholesale to television reception studies or modes of cultural studies that use texts to diagnose social phenomena having texts stand in for audiences Situated within media studies recent return to the text this approach therefore treats texts as ends in themselves while maintaining the political commitments of subjectivity and cultural studies Subject oriented textual analysis understands both texts and subjects as produced via processes of meaning making as subjects draw on already existing scopical regimes to make visual phenomena meaningful Textual analysis that understands textual meaning as indebted to processes of subjectivity therefore must engage with questions of power relations gazes and spectatorship the history of visual culture materiality and intersubjectivity Such meanings moreover are form and content specific so a subject oriented textual analysis requires textual analysis with sensitivity to form and the ways in which televisual meanings are specifically televisual The approach developed in this thesis is therefore one that examines televisual texts but takes as its primary focus processes of subjectivity

In order to demonstrate the usefulness of such an approach the bulk of the thesis is devoted to four case studies covering makeover television Australian tabloid current affairs television and the dramatic narrative television series The Wire and Treme In addition to psychoanalysis Foucauldian theory and television studies these case studies critically engage with a wide range of cultural and political theory including postcolonial theories of the other neoliberalism the public sphere emotions and empathy research trauma and tourism studies and the Levinasian ethics of the face Drawing on these domains of enquiry the subject oriented textual analysis developed in this thesis contributes original analyses of television texts to the field of television studies and provides fresh insights to the study of mediated and political subjectivities Television

Studies: The Basics Toby Miller, 2009-12-04 Television Studies The Basics is a lively introduction to the study of a powerful medium It examines the major theories and debates surrounding production and reception over the years and considers both the role and future of television Topics covered include broadcasting history and technology institutions and ownership genre and content audiences Complete with global case studies questions for discussion and suggestions for further reading this is an invaluable and engaging resource for those interested in how to study television The SAGE Handbook of Television Studies Manuel Alvarado, Milly Buonanno, Herman Gray, Toby Miller, 2014-12-09 Genuinely transnational in content as sensitive to the importance of production as consumption covering the full range of approaches from political economy to textual analysis and written by a star studded cast of contributors Emeritus Professor Graeme Turner University of Queensland Finally we have before us a first rate and wide ranging volume that reframes television studies afresh boldly synthesising debates in the humanities cultural studies and social sciences This volume should be in every library and media scholar's bookshelf Professor Ravi Sundaram Centre for the Study of Developing Societies Bringing together a truly international spread of contributors from across the UK US South America Mexico and Australia this Handbook charts the field of television studies from issues of ownership and regulation through to reception and consumption Separate chapters are dedicated to examining the roles of journalists writers cinematographers producers and manufacturers in the production process whilst others explore different formats including sport novella and soap opera news and current affairs music and reality TV The final section analyses the pivotal role played by audiences in the contexts of gender race and class and spans a range of topics from effects studies to audience consumption The SAGE Handbook of Television Studies is an essential reference work for all advanced undergraduates graduate students and academics across broadcasting mass communication and media studies Television Studies: The Key Concepts Ben Calvert, Neil Casey, Bernadette Casey, Liam French, Justin Lewis, 2007-08-07 With close to 100 entries this fully updated second edition includes case studies from new media to illustrate the latest developments in the field Cultural Specificity in Transnational Television Drama Elke Weissmann, 2025-08-08 Cultural Specificity in Transnational Television Drama examines two European television industries those of Germany and Wales This book analyses how near global shifts towards the fragmentation of audiences the convergence of media and the transnationalisation of the television industries impact in culturally specific ways It shows that these larger developments in the industries intersect with specific local histories and cultures which influence how the changes are experienced and what kind of stories they lead to Offering a comparative cultural analysis of these two industries and their output and drawing on a variety of methods which include interviews analysis of published interviews in the trade and other press some archival research and textual analysis this book shows that the global shifts in television impact in locally specific ways which implies a continuation and indeed exaggeration of existing cultural differences at the same time as we see increasing collaboration internationalisation and as a result also homogenisation between nations This book presents a unique emphasis on both transnationalising and localising tendencies highlighting the need to maintain analytical focus on the nation in this supposedly post national world It will be of particular interest to scholars and researchers in contemporary television landscape literary and film studies modern languages philosophy and economics
