The First Of Stones:

The First Stones William Britnell, Alasdair Whittle, 2022-12-01 The First Stones brings together the results of recent research on the Neolithic long cairns lying in the shadow of the Black Mountains in south east Wales focusing upon Penywyrldod and Gwernvale the two best known tombs within the group previously excavated in the 1970s Important results lie in both new site detail and reassessment of the wider context Small scale excavation geophysical survey and geological assessment at Penywyrldod the largest of the Welsh long cairns gave further information about the distinctive external and internal architecture of the monument In turn this opened the opportunity to reassess the pre monument sequence at Gwernvale with re examination of both Mesolithic and Neolithic occupations including a timber structure and midden lithic and pottery assemblages and cereal remains The frame for wider reassessment is given by fresh chronological modeling both of the monuments themselves suggesting a sequence from Penywyrldod and Pipton to Ty Isaf and Gwernvale probably spanning the 38th to the 36th or 35th centuries cal BC and of early Neolithic activity in south Wales and the Marches probably beginning in the 39th century cal BC A detailed study of the major assemblages of human remains from the Black Mountains tombs includes evidence for diet trauma and lifestyles of the populations represented Recent isotope analysis of human remains from the tombs is also reviewed implying social mobility and migration within local populations during the early Neolithic The First Stones makes a significant contribution to the study of tomb building treatment of the dead place making the relationship of monuments to landscape local and regional identities connections and affiliations across southern Britain and the adjacent continent and Neolithization in western Britain Viewed within the context of tombs within the Cotswold Severn tradition as a whole it leads to an appreciation of the local and regional distinctiveness of architecture and mortuary practice exhibited by the tombs in this area of south east Wales emerging as part of the intake of a significant inland area in the early centuries of the Neolithic

The First Stone Mark Anthony, 2007-12-18 The Pale King has been defeated his legions decimated The Dark God Mohg has been destroyed And the evil corporation Duratek has been disbanded foiled in its efforts to strip mine the world of Eldh And for our heroes three years have passed in relative peace But only relative because every one of them know in their hearts that their duties are not yet ended For perihelion approaches as the two worlds continue to grow nearer And bad things are coming in its wake In the skies over Earth astronomers have noted an anomaly which seems to be swallowing stars whole On Eldh these rifts in the sky are appearing as well and the dragon Sinfathisar tells Grace Beckett that if left unchecked these holes of anti being will annihilate all of creation forever He adds that only Travis Wilder whom the Mournish believe is fated to raise the lost city of Morindu the Dark from the desert sands that hide and hold it can save the world But what is the connection between the lost city of the sorcerers and the wounds that rift the heavens As Grace goes in search of Travis and Travis goes in search of his kidnapped daughter all the threads of fate begin to pull together revealing ancient mysteries on both worlds and connections within connections that carry all the way
