The Fiction Of Reality:

The Fiction of Reality Zulfikar Ghose, 1983 Epistemics of the Virtual Johan F. Hoorn, 2012-05-09

Proposing a new theory of fiction this work reviews the confusion about perceived realism metaphor virtual worlds and the seemingly obvious distinction between what is true and what is false The rise of new media new technology and creative products and services requires a new examination of what real friends are to what extent scientific novelty is true and whether online content is merely figurative In this transdisciplinary theory the author evaluates cognitive theories philosophical discussion and topics in biology and physics and places these in the frameworks of computer science and literary theory The interest of the reader is continuously challenged on matters of truth fiction and the shakiness of our belief systems How Real Is Reality TV?

David S. Escoffery, 2014-12-03 American viewers are attracted to what they see as the non scripted unpredictable freshness of reality television But although the episodes may not be scripted the shows are constructed within a deliberately designed framework reflecting societal values The political economic and personal issues of reality TV are in many ways simply an exaggerated version of everyday life allowing us to identify perhaps more closely than we care to admit with the characters onscreen With 16 essays from scholars around the world this volume discusses the notion of representation in reality television It explores how both audiences and producers negotiate the gulf between representations and truth in reality shows such as Survivor The Apprentice Big Brother The Nanny American Idol Extreme Makeover Joe Millionaire and The Amazing Race Various identity categories and character types found in these shows are discussed and the accuracy of their television portrayal examined Dealing with the concept of reality audience reception gender roles minority portrayal and power issues the book provides an in depth look at what we see or think we see in reality TV

Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here Fictional Realities / Real Fictions. Contemporary Theatre in Search of a New Mimetic Paradigm Mateusz Borowski, Malgorzata Sugiera, 2009-03-26

The collection of essays Fictional Realities Real Fictions Contemporary Theatre in Search of a New Mimetic Paradigm tackles the problem of fictionality and reality in contemporary theatre practice and playwriting It approaches this hotly debated issue in a larger context of the theories of theatrical and dramatic mimesis The volume provides an answer to the most recent developments in performative arts such as the widespread use of new media technologies the popularity of site specific productions and the flourishing of various post dramatic forms of expression The phenomena scrutinized in this collection call into question the basic dichotomy between the fictional and the real on which the theory and practice of the Western theatre has been based right from its inception However due to their extremely heterogeneous character they pose a considerable problem for researchers and teachers who still do not find a widely applicable methodology for the analysis of contemporary performances and texts for the theatre Fictional Realities Real Fictions sets the discussion of the onset of new mimetic paradigm in three interrelated contexts the new perceptual patterns forged by contemporary theatre the use of media on stage and the strategies of today s political theatre The case studies presented here in spite of their thematic diversity are subordinated to a single theoretical framework Thus they turn out extremely useful both for the scholars investigating the problems of contemporary theatre and students of theatre and drama Fictional Realities Real Fictions offers them a rigid methodological scaffolding supported by a number of illustrative examples from a variety of cultural context and theatre traditions which gives them an opportunity to extrapolate from the main argument of the volume to their own research

Contemporary Italian Filmmaking Manuela Gieri,1995-01-01 Contemporary Italian Filmmaking is an innovative critique of Italian filmmaking in the aftermath of World War II as it moves beyond traditional categories such as genre film and auteur cinema Manuela Gieri demonstrates that Luigi Pirandello's revolutionary concept of humour was integral to the development of a counter tradition in Italian filmmaking that she defines humoristic She delineates a Pirandellian genealogy in Italian cinema literature and culture through her examination of the works of Federico Fellini Ettore Scola and many directors of the new generation such as Nanni Moretti Gabriele Salvatores Maurizio Nichetti and Giuseppe Tornatore A celebrated figure of the theatrical world Luigi Pirandello 1867 1936 is little known beyond Italy for his critical and theoretical writings on cinema and for his screenplays Gieri brings to her reading of Pirandello's work the critical parameters offered by psychoanalysis poststructuralism and postmodernism to develop a syncretic and transcultural vision of the history of Italian cinema She identifies two fundamental trends of development in this tradition the melodramatic imagination and the humoristic or comic imagination With her focus on the humoristic imagination Gieri describes a Pirandellian mode derived from his revolutionary utterances on the cinema and narrative and specifically from his essay on humour L'umorismo On Humour 1908 She traces a history of the Pirandellian mode in cinema and investigates its characteristics demonstrating the original nature of Italian filmmaking that is particularly indebted to Pirandello's interpretation of humour

Castañeda and his Guises Adriano Palma,2014-08-25 This volume responds to and reassesses the work of Hector Neri Castañeda 1924 1991 The essays collected here written by his students followers and opponents examine Castañeda's seminal views on deontic logic metaethics indexicality practices fictions and metaphysics utilizing the critical viewpoint afforded by time as well as new data to offer insights on his theories and methodology

Wag the Dog: A Study on Film and Reality in the Digital Age Eleftheria Thanouli,2013-08-01 Wag the Dog is a film that became a media event and a cultural icon because it inadvertently short circuited the distance that is supposed to separate reality and fiction The film's narration challenges the established boundaries between the fiction and nonfiction tradition as Barry Levinson the director embeds his interest in documentary filmmaking and complicates the issue of narrative agency in the way he frames the story The examination of the historical and social context in which it was produced exhibited and received worldwide enables the author to illuminate a series of changes in the way a fiction film reflects and interacts with reality urging us to reconsider some of our central and long standing concepts or even paradigms in film theory Eleftheria Thanouli provides new insights into a series of issues from both classical and contemporary film theory like the conceptual and ontological stakes in the use of digital technology the impact of mass media on public memory and the political role of cinema in a globalized and conglomerated world Fictional Space in the Modernist and Post-modernist American Novel Carl Darryl Malmgren, 1985 Fictional space is the imaginal expanse of field created by fictional discourse a space which through ultimately self referential and self validating necessarily exists in ascertainable relation to the real world outside the text After defining his theoretical framework the author applies it to American fiction of the twentieth century

The Future of Post-Human Performing Arts Peter Baofu, 2013-01-03 Are the performing arts really supposed to be so radical that as John Cage once said in the context of music there is no noise only sound since he argued that any sounds we can hear can be music WK 2007a D Harwood 1976 This radical tradition in performing arts with music as an example here can be contrasted with an opposing view in the older days when Greek philosophers and medieval theorists in music defined music as tones ordered horizontally as melodies and vertically as harmonies Music theory within this realm is studied with the presupposition that music is orderly and often pleasant to hear WK 2007a Contrary to these opposing traditions and other views as will be discussed in the book performing arts in relation to both the body and its presence is neither possible nor desirable to the extent that the respective ideologues on different sides would like us to believe Needless to say the challenge to these opposing traditions in performing arts does not imply that performing arts are worthless human endeavors or that those fields of study related to performing arts like aesthetics acoustics communication studies psychology culture studies sociology religion morality and so on should be rejected too Of course neither of these extreme views is reasonable Instead this book provides an alternative better way of understanding the future of performing arts especially in the dialectic context of the body and its presence while learning from different approaches in the literature but without favoring any one of them or integrating them since they are not necessarily compatible with each other In other words this book offers a new theory that is the transdisciplinary theory of performing arts to go beyond the existing approaches in a novel way If successful this seminal project will fundamentally change the way that we think about performing arts from the combined perspectives of the mind nature society and culture with enormous implications for the human future and what the author originally called its post human fate

Human Creation Between Reality and Illusion Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka, 2006-06-30 Identifying quickly illusion with deception we tend to oppose it to the reality of life However investigating in this collection of essays illusion s functions in the Arts which thrives upon illusion and yet maintains its existential roots and meaningfulness in the real we might wonder about the nature of reality itself Does not illusion open the seeming confines of factual reality into horizons of imagination which transform it Does it not like art belong essentially to the makeup of human reality Papers by Lanfranco Aceti John Baldacchino Maria Avelina Cecilia Lafuente Jo Ann Circosta Madalina Diaconu Jennifer Anna Gosetti Ferencei Brian Grassom Marguerite Harris Andrew E Hershberger James Carlton Hughes Lawrence Kimmel Jung In Kwon Ruth Ronen Scott A Sherer Joanne Snow Smith Max Statkiewicz Patricia Trutty
