Wendy A. Gaudin

The Beach Club Begins One:

Forever One Summer George M. Leon, 2007-11-20 This is a love story based on events that occurred in my life more than fifty years ago Some of the names have been changed and some events may have been diminished or embellished while recalling things that happened when writing the story The story is based on recollections of actual experiences I had It is a story filled with discovery joy and the innocence of teenage years back in the fiftys It also shows how those years became the building blocks of a lifetime The motivation for writing this came from an extraordinary thing that happened to me in the Spring of 2006 that stirred my memory and caused me to recall with clarity what I had so long ago buried in my subconscious mind I met a person who became a good friend but more importantly she reawakened everything I had discovered in that one magical summer back in 1954 Looking back as an adult fifty years later made me realize that there is symmetry in life but many people never take the time to see it This all started for me when we returned from our Winter Condo in Boca Raton Florida in April of 2006 As per my usual morning routine I continued to awaken early and go over to Starbucks to sit and have my morning cup of Decaf Americano I'd sit there and read the Daily News or the New York Times and chat with some fascinating people I had met who'd become friends in the several years since I retired One particular April morning I came in and they had a new person in charge of the morning shift working there From the moment I saw her I could not stop looking at her There was something instantly so familiar about her but I wasn't able to see exactly what it was initially When I made the connection with what it was it hit me like a ton of bricks After we were introduced we began chatting briefly but the more we made small talk the less I actually heard what she was saying as memories of my past flooded back All of a sudden I was fifteen years old again I knew then I had to sit down and somehow get this written I also knew I would at some point have to share this amazing story with her if or when I got to know her better It was interesting recalling my early childhood and the events that brought me to that wonderful summer of discovery and falling in love for what I believed then to be the first and last time in my life That summer held some of the keys to the person I would become as I grew up and dealt with life at all ages

Rancho Palos Verdes Los Angeles County, Feasibility Report ,2000 I Couldn't Even Boil An Egg Elisabeth Lindesay, 2013-03-18 When Elisabeth Lindesay married a young international banker in 1950 she found herself uprooted from her comfortable Scottish home and swept into a new and colourful life in the Middle East Married life became a whirlwind of house moves and homemaking social engagements and childcare challenges as they raised their four offspring in a series of contrasting settings all fascinating but each with its own headaches from eccentric nannies and peculiar foodstuffs to political riots After moving from Iran to Jordan while their first child was still a tiny baby the couple went on to set up home successively in Syria Lebanon Sudan Tunisia Libya Qatar Kuwait and Morocco giving them a far greater insight into life in the Middle East than most Westerners could dream of I Couldn't Even Boil an Egg is Elisabeth's account of those happy hectic years

Sunset Limited Wendy A. Gaudin, 2025-03-18 Shaped by centuries of migration enslavement freedom colonization and cultural mixture Louisiana Creole identity is often simplified or misunderstood to fit into today's ideas about race and nationality In Sunset Limited An Autobiography of Creole Wendy A Gaudin fearlessly takes on the many meanings of Creole in a lyrical exploration of how this multilayered transnational bilingual and racially expansive history of New Orleans and Louisiana has manifested itself in her own diasporic Creole family When Gaudin's Creole grandparents boarded the Sunset Limited train in Jim Crow era New Orleans they imagined new lives for themselves in the city of Los Angeles The Sunset Limited produced a twentieth century Creole community on the West Coast whose members ate the traditional foods of south Louisiana gathered in one another's homes and churches spoke in the distinctive dialects of the Gulf Coast and taught their children to respect their unique blended ancestry and their centuries long history As an adult yearning to know more about her Creole background Gaudin returned to Louisiana There she began to trace her Creole ancestors back to the time before the Civil War confronting hard truths about the past her grandparents left behind Revisiting the lands of her ancestors diving into the archival record interviewing those who remained in New Orleans and remembering the stories told to her by her elders Gaudin sought answers to questions asked by many whose lives are shaped by migration Why did her people leave their ancestral home What did they lose in the leaving and what did they gain Sunset Limited explores the boundaries of what it means to be Creole how migration shaped Gaudin's family and her community and how this history is remembered and told Incorporating historical narrative oral history biomythography historiography cultural geography autoethnography and poetry Sunset Limited is as multidimensional and dynamic as Louisiana Creoles themselves Weaving together the stories of her mixed race elders the artifacts of her ancestors and memories of her California childhood Gaudin argues that history is not a cold linear record of the past Rather it is a deeply felt understanding of how we are shaped by the movements of our ancestors and of our rich and ever changing relationships with those who came before us
