Nielsen,Frans Bévort,Thomas Duus Henriksen,Anne-Mette Hjalager,Danielle Bjerre Lyndgaard,2023-07-24 One of the most significant management challenges in modern companies and organizations is dealing with unavoidable complex paradoxes Today's world is multidimensional multipolar and multipurpose and increasingly classic management challenges such as leadership vs management exploitation vs exploration virtual vs physical presence economic sustainability vs environmental sustainability localization vs globalization etc assume the characteristics of paradoxes rather than problems or dilemmas Leadership of paradox is not about making a decision once and for all or prioritizing tough trade offs but about navigating between opposing considerations Navigating Leadership Paradox argues that academic knowledge pools can support leaders decision making and sense making in organizations and navigating paradoxes The book outlines a practical pathway for management leaders and professionals for steering through paradox using 5 phases 10 paradoxes 15 tools 20 cases and 25 learning points It delineates how to identify a paradox by assessing the nature of your challenge and discusses the appropriate courses of action individually as well in collaboration with other stakeholders It also gives inspiration and advice for professional helpers assisting others in navigating paradox as part of organizational development or other educational purposes This book will be essential reading for practitioners and academicians in the fields of leadership paradox complexity management change management leadership dilemmas and organizational paradox      Dynamic Capabilities Constance E. Innovation Systems and Capabilities in Developing Regions Willie Siyanbola, Olumuyiwa Olamide, 2016-05-23 In today s knowledge driven world innovation and innovation systems have become key policy issues However the extent of knowledge that is available on these concepts in less developed countries is still relatively low Much of what we know about innovation theory and systems has come from the developed countries and reflects their world view This apparent knowledge deficit has major implications for less developed countries Innovation Systems and Capabilities in Developing Regions adds to the growing body of knowledge on developing countries The theoretical and empirical case studies presented here advance the notion that while developing countries may not engage in frontier research a critical knowledge base upon which these countries compete for global markets is emerging There is evidence that state and non state actors are increasingly emphasising policies that sit within the framework of national innovation systems This book illuminates this shift in policy competence at national levels The contributions in this volume highlight the need for thorough understanding of the role of diffusion based innovation linked to technology transfer and acquisition They also provide empirical evidence on the drivers dynamics and impact of such innovation in developing economies and the constraints that apply Contributors also document the application of the innovation system approach in developing countries as well as the build up and diffusion of technological capabilities within innovation systems Academics higher level students policy makers and practitioners involved with innovation and the economics of technical change particularly in developing countries will find this a valuable book

Innovation Capabilities: Affirming an Oxymoron? Tor Helge Aas, Karl Joachim Breunig, 2017-01-01 The relationship between resources and capabilities and performance has been discussed since Edith Penrose addressed the mechanisms behind the growth of the firm. Penrose 1959. Early contributions to this area of research suggest that valuable and inimitable resources and capabilities are the primary sources of superior performance and sustained competitive advantage. Barney 1991, Wernerfelt 1984. While more recent contributions suggest that the ability to change and reconfigure resources and capabilities, dynamic capabilities, are the most important for performance, especially when the market is unstable. Teece 2014, Teece, Pisano, Rubera, Guan, Hertog, van der Aa, Wang, Lu, Yam, Lo, Tang, Lau 2011. But despite these important advances, there is still a lack of consensus in the literature and a pressing need to clarify what type of resources and capabilities drive innovation in different contexts. Lidiya Robert 2014 and how these capabilities are developed and utilized. Helfat, Peteraf 2003.

Managing Value Co-creation in University-Industry Partnerships Rafal Dudkowski, 2021-01-23 This book discusses how academic institutions can play a principal role in companies' innovation strategy. The characteristics of University-Industry collaboration are strongly related to the social aspect of the activity of collaborating agents oriented towards a common object of work. To analyze this phenomenon, the author applies one of the concepts from the Practice Based Approach, namely the concept of the Activity Network, to understand the collaboration process of R D activities in a Nordic Telia and Swiss Swisscom Telecom Companies developing innovative products. The author focuses on four phases of University-Industry innovation partnership building: identification, selection, formation, and navigation. The study shows the interactions between individuals, the contexts in which they act, and explores ways in which collaborative value co-creation is managed. This pioneering research offers new theoretical insights and managerial implications on how these dynamics influence innovation in companies. It will thus be invaluable to international scholars, researchers of R D and innovation, as well as business managers.

Shipp, Yitzhak Fried, 2014-02-18 The concept of time is a crucial filter through which we understand any events or phenomena nothing exists outside of time It conditions not only the question of when but also influences the what how and why of our ideas about management And yet management scholars have rarely considered this temporal lens in understanding how time affects employees at work or the organizations for which they work This 2 volume set provides a fresh temporal perspective on some of the most important and thriving areas in management research today Volume 1 considers how time impacts the individual and includes chapters on identity emotion motivation stress and creativity Volume 2 considers time in context with the organization exploring a temporal understanding of leadership HRM entrepreneurship teams and cross cultural issues

There is an overall concern with the practical implications of understanding individuals and organizations within the most relevant timeframes while the two volumes provide an actionable research agenda for the future This is a highly significant contribution to management theory and research and will be important reading for all students and researchers of Organizational Behavior Organizational Psychology Occupational Psychology Business and Management and HRM
