

The image is a composite of two desert scenes. The top half shows a vast desert landscape with a range of rugged, brown mountains under a clear sky. In the middle ground, there are several tall, columnar cacti and some smaller desert shrubs. The bottom half of the image is a close-up of a rocky desert floor covered with numerous small, vibrant blue and orange flowers, likely desert lupines, growing between large, grey boulders.

Schmidly, 2002 Natural history Texas table of contents index Baboquivari Mountain Plants Daniel F. and Reptiles of the US-Mexico Border States/Anfibios y reptiles de los estados de la frontera México-Estados Unidos Julio A. Lemos-Espinal, 2015-12-11 In the first bilingual work on the reptiles and amphibians of the US Mexico border top herpetologists come together to describe the herpetofauna of the states of this region which includes more than 600 species of toads frogs salamanders turtles sea turtles alligators lizards snakes and sea snakes that are found along the almost 2 000 mile border between the two countries Each chapter is devoted to one state four in the US California Arizona New Mexico and Texas and six in Mexico Baja California Sonora Chihuahua Coahuila Nuevo Le n and Tamaulipas with text in both English and Spanish The chapters contain an introduction to the area a review of the research a sketch of the state s physiography and a description of the species present as well as the pertinent conservation issues they face A color photo gallery includes images of nearly all species Almost 40 percent of the featured native species are shared between the US and Mexico reminding us that animals depend on the integrity of natural landscapes and proving the need for a comprehensive bilingual reference to help lead a shared effort in the management and conservation of the borderlands Park Science ,2012 A Natural History of the New World Alan Graham, 2011 A Natural History of the New World traces the evolution of plant ecosystems beginning in the Late Cretaceous period and ending in the present charting their responses to changes in geology and climate Southwestern Desert Resources William L. Halvorson, Cecil R. Schwalbe, Charles van Riper, 2023-01-10 The southwestern deserts stretch from southeastern California to west Texas and then south to central Mexico The landscape of this region is known as basin and range topography featuring to sky islands of forest rising from the desert lowlands which creates a uniquely diverse ecology The region is further complicated by an international border where governments have caused difficulties for many animal populations This book puts a spotlight on individual research projects which are specific examples of work being done in the area and when they are all brought together to shed a general light of understanding the biological and cultural resources of this vast region so that those same resources can be managed as effectively and efficiently as possible The intent is to show that collaborative efforts among federal state agency university and private sector researchers working with land managers provides better science and better management than when scientists and land managers work independently
