The BEAVER MEN

Spearheads of Empire

By MARI SANDOZ

A vital and compelling addition to Miss Sandoz' multi-volumed epic of the Great Plains, this book is a sweeping, panoramic account of the beaver trade in its drive across America for profit and territory. Covering two and a half centuries, it ranges from the beginnings of the trade along the St. Lawrence to the last great rendezvous of traders and trappers on Ham's Fork, in what is now Wyoming, in 1834.

The exploits of Chauvin and Champlain are followed by the fur fairs at Montreal, with the canoe

The Beaver Men Mari Sandoz, 2009 Originally published New York Hastings House 1964      The Beaver Men Mari Sandoz, 1964      The Beaver Men Mari Sandoz, 1978-01-01 A history of the beaver trade in the Great Plains region ranges from its beginnings along the Saint Lawrence River to the last great rendezvous of traders and trappers in 1834      Beaver Men Mari Sandoz, 1975-01-01      Historical Dictionary of the American Frontier Jay H. Buckley, Brenden W. Rensink, 2015-05-05 The Historical Dictionary of the American Frontier covers early Euro American exploration and development of frontiers in North America but not only the lands that would eventually be incorporated into the United States it also includes the multiple North American frontiers explored by Spain France Russia England and others The focus is upon Euro American activities in frontier exploration and development but the roles of indigenous peoples in these processes is highlighted throughout The history of this period is covered through a chronology an introductory essay and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 300 cross referenced entries on explorers adventurers traders religious orders developers and indigenous peoples This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about the development of the American frontier      Of Rock and Rivers Ellen Wohl, 2009-06-08 This deeply personal collection of essays paints a progressive view of the American West as seen by a geologist The author traces her twenty years of living and conducting research in the natural landscapes of the West as she investigates the conflict between environmental history and widely held romanticized views of the region      The Red and the White Andrew R. Graybill, 2013-09-30 Winner of the Labriola Center American Indian National Book Award One of the American West's bloodiest and least known massacres is searingly re-created in this generation spanning history of native white intermarriage At dawn on January 23 1870 four hundred men of the Second U S Cavalry attacked and butchered a Piegan camp near the Marias River in Montana in one of the worst slaughters of Indians by American military forces in U S history Coming to avenge the murder of their father a former fur trader named Malcolm Clarke who had been killed four months earlier by their Piegan mother's cousin Clarke's own two sons joined the cavalry in a slaughter of many of their own relatives In this groundbreaking work of American history Andrew R Graybill places the Marias Massacre within a larger three generation saga of the Clarke family particularly illuminating the complex history of native white intermarriage in the American Northwest      Born of Lakes and Plains Anne F. Hyde, 2022-02-15 Finalist for the 2023 Stubbendieck Great Plains Distinguished Book Prize Immersive and humane Jennifer Szalai New York Times A fresh history of the West grounded in the lives of mixed descent Native families who first bridged and then collided with racial boundaries Often overlooked there is mixed blood at the heart of America And at the heart of Native life for centuries there were complex households using intermarriage to link disparate communities and create protective circles of kin Beginning in the seventeenth century Native peoples Ojibwes Otoes Cheyennes Chinooks and others formed new families with young French English Canadian and American fur traders who spent months in smoky winter lodges or at boisterous summer rendezvous. These families built cosmopolitan trade centers from Michilimackinac on the Great Lakes to Bellevue on the Missouri River. Bent's Fort in the southern Plains and Fort Vancouver in the Pacific Northwest. Their family names are often imprinted on the landscape but their voices have long been muted in our histories. Anne F. Hyde's pathbreaking history restores them in full. Vividly combining the panoramic and the particular, Born of Lakes and Plains follows five mixed descent families whose lives intertwined major events: imperial battles over the fur trade, the first extensions of American authority west of the Appalachians, the ravages of imported disease, the violence of Indian removal, encroaching American settlement, and following the Civil War, the disasters of Indian war, reservations policy, and allotment. During the pivotal nineteenth century, mixed descent people who had once occupied a middle ground became a racial problem, drawing hostility from all sides. Their identities were challenged by the pseudo science of blood quantum, the instrument of allotment policy, and their traditions by the Indian schools established to erase Native ways. As Anne F. Hyde shows, they navigated the hard choices they faced as they had for centuries, by relying on the rich resources of family and kin. Here is an indelible western history with a new human face.

The Beaver James P. Delgado, 1993. The Hudson's Bay Company's paddle steamer, the Beaver, was the first and for many years the only steam vessel on the coast of British Columbia. In 1888, her long and successful career came to a sad end on the rocks of Prospect Point, but she remains an object of fascination to divers. This is the biography of the Beaver, a ship that made an unparalleled contribution to the history of the west coast.
