The Bedouin This Changing World Ser:

Changing Nomads in a Changing World Joseph Ginat, 1998-01-01 Discusses how pastoralists are coping and changing as the societies they inhabit change at an unprecedented pace The Naqab Bedouin and Colonialism Mansour Nasasra, Sophie Richter-Devroe, Sarab Abu-Rabia-Queder, Richard Ratcliffe, 2014-08-13 The Naqab Bedouin and Colonialism brings together new scholarship to challenge perceived paradigms often dominated by orientalist modernist or developmentalist assumptions on the Naqab Bedouin The past decade has witnessed a change in both the wider knowledge production on and political profile of the Naqab Bedouin This book addresses this change by firstly endeavouring to overcome the historic isolation of Naqab Bedouin studies from the rest of Palestine studies by situating studying and analyzing their predicaments firmly within the contemporary context of Israeli settler colonial policies Secondly it strives to de colonise research and advocacy on the Naqab Bedouin by for example reclaiming indigenous knowledge and terminology Offering not only a nuanced description and analysis of Naqab Bedouin agency and activism but also trying to draw broader conclusion as to the functioning of settler colonial power structures as well as to the politics of research in such a context this book is essential reading for students and researchers with an interest in Postcolonial Studies Development Studies Israel Palestine Studies and the contemporary Middle East more broadly Conservation in the Context of a Changing World Bertie J. systems and government under the then Sultan Said bin Taimur Rural communities in northern Oman had very little contact with the Sultan's government which was based in the southern province of Dhofar In a world in which people in most countries including the Gulf States gained at least some benefit from modern education and health services Omani villagers and pastoralists had recourse only to Koranic schools and traditional healers On the other hand however they retained full responsibility for the management of their rural resources on which they depended for their livelihoods and for life itself and had evolved effective communal systems for their development and conservation These were exemplified by regulations governing the protection of trees and by the work of the committees which controlled the traditional falaj water supply network People worked interdependently responding to the contributions made by other members of the rural communities in a system of mutual self reliance They also lived in harmony with their environment in a manner which time had proven to be truly sustainable This volume looks at the changes that occurred after Sultan Qaboos came to power in 1970 Change and Development in Nomadic and Pastoral Societies ,2022-10-17
