The Laughing Cry An African Cock And Bull Story:

The Laughing Cry Henri Lopes, 1987 Brilliant ferocious burlesque of Africa's strong man politics by a great African writer

The Tears of the Black Man Alain Mabanckou, 2018-07-11 An intellectually dense collection Mabanckou's challenging perspective on African identity today is as enlightening as it is provocative Publishers Weekly In The Tears of the Black Man award winning author Alain Mabanckou explores what it means to be black in the world today Mabanckou confronts the long and entangled history of Africa France and the United States as it has been shaped by slavery colonialism and their legacy today Without ignoring the injustices and prejudice still facing blacks he distances himself from resentment and victimhood arguing that focusing too intensely on the crimes of the past is limiting Instead it is time to ask Now what Embracing the challenges faced by ethnic minority communities today The Tears of the Black Man looks to the future choosing to believe that the history of Africa has yet to be written and seeking a path toward affirmation and reconciliation Praise for Alain Mabanckou and his works Mabanckou counts as one of the most successful voices of young African literature Internationales Literaturfestival Berlin Africa's Samuel Beckett one of the continent's greatest living writers The Guardian One of the most compelling books you'll read in any language this year Rolling Stone

The Dictator Novel Magalí Armillas-Tiseyra, 2019-07-15 Where there are dictators there are novels about dictators But dictator novels do not simply respond to the reality of dictatorship As this genre has developed and cohered it has acquired a self-generating force distinct from its historical referents The dictator novel has become a space in which writers consider the difficulties of national consolidation explore the role of external and global forces in sustaining dictatorship and even interrogate the political functions of writing itself Literary representations of the dictator therefore provide ground for a self-conscious and self-critical theorization of the relationship between writing and politics itself The Dictator Novel positions novels about dictators as a vital genre in the literatures of the Global South Primarily identified with Latin America the dictator novel also has underacknowledged importance in the postcolonial literatures of francophone and anglophone Africa Although scholars have noted similarities this book is the first extensive comparative analysis of these traditions it includes discussions of authors including Gabriel García Márquez Ngũgĩ Thiong'o Alejo Carpentier Augusto Roa Bastos Domingo Faustino Sarmiento José Martí Esteban Echeverría Ousmane Sembène Chinua Achebe Aminata Sow Fall Henri Lopé Sony Labou Tansi and Ahmadou Kourouma This juxtaposition illuminates the internal dynamics of the dictator novel as a literary genre In so doing Armillas-Tiseyra puts forward a comparative model relevant to scholars working across the Global South

Nation-Building, Propaganda, and Literature in Francophone Africa Dominic Thomas, 2002-11-19 The relationship between literature the state is examined in this discussion of Francophone African literature Dominic Thomas considers the case of the Congo where the recent transition to democracy was in part inspired by the works of Sony Labou Tansi Henri Lopes Emmanuel Dongala among others

The Post-colonial Condition of African Literature Daniel Gover, John Conteh-Morgan, Jane

Bryce,2000 A collection of ten articles on African literature selected from papers presented at the 1995 conference of the African Literature Association held in Columbus Ohio The Oxford Handbook of Gabriel García Márquez Gene H.

Bell-Villada,Ignacio López-Calvo,2022 This Handbook offers a comprehensive examination of Gabriel García Márquez's life oeuvre and legacy the first such work since his death in 2014 It incorporates ongoing critical approaches such as feminism ecocriticism Marxism and ethnic studies while elucidating key aspects of his work such as his Caribbean Colombian background his use of magical realism myth and folklore and his left wing political views Thirty two wide ranging chapters cover the bulk of the author's writings giving special attention to the global influence of García Márquez The

Francophone African Text Kwaku Addae Gyasi,2006 Focusing on the African writer and the language of the former colonial power The Francophone African Text Translation and the Postcolonial Experience highlights the writer's reappropriation of the foreign language in the creative writing process It calls attention to the African writer's use of French a process of creative translation in which the writer's words form a hybrid code that compels the original French to refer to the indigenous African language for meaning Examining a group of works under the theme of translation this book reveals that a consideration of both ideological and linguistic elements enhances understanding of the subject from the broader perspective of postcolonial discourse Postcolonial Criticism and Representations of African Dictatorship Cecile

Bishop,2017-07-05 The figure of the dictator looms large in representations of postcolonial Africa Since the late 1970s writers film makers and theorists have sought to represent the realities of dictatorship without endorsing the colonialist clichés portraying Africans as incapable of self government Against the heavily politicized responses provoked by this dilemma Bishop argues for a form of criticism that places the complexity of the reader's or spectator's experiences at the heart of its investigations Ranging across literature film and political theory this study calls for a reengagement with notions often seen as unwelcome diversions from political questions such as referentiality genre and aesthetics But rather than pit political approaches against formal and aesthetic procedures the author presents new insights into the interplay of the political and the aesthetic Cecile Bishop is a Junior Research Fellow in French at Somerville College Oxford

Francophone African Narratives and the Anglo-American Book Market Vivan Steemers, 2021-03-01 In recent years the material circumstances governing the production of African literature have been analyzed from a variety of angles This study goes one step further by charting the trajectories of a corpus of francophone African sub Saharan narratives subsequently translated into English It examines the role of various institutional agents and agencies publishers preface writers critics translators and literary award committees involved in the value making process that accrues visibility to these texts that eventually reach the Anglo American book market The author evinces that over time different types of publishers dominated both within the original publishing space as in the foreign literary field contingent on their specific mission be it commercial ideological or educational as well as on socioeconomic and political circumstances The study addresses the influence of the editorial paratextual framing pandering to specific Western readerships the potential interventionist function of the translator and the consecrating mechanisms of literary and translation awards affecting both gender and minority representation Drawing on the work by key sociologists and translation theorists the author uses an innovative interdisciplinary methodology to analyze the corpus narratives
