Dunson III, 2017-12-20 In this book James Dunson explores end of life ethics including physician assisted suicide PAS and continuous sedation until death He argues that ethical debates currently ignore the experience of the dying patient in an effort to focus on policy creation and proposes that the dying experience should instead be prioritized and used to inform policy development. The author makes the case that PAS should be recognized as a legally and morally permissible option for a very particular kind of patient terminally ill with fewer than six months to live and capable of conscious consent. Since focusing on the patient's experience of this end-of-life dilemma transforms some of the basic concepts we use to engage in the PAS debate, the argument has implications for patient care and the training of medical professionals.

Nietzsche and Epicurus Vinod Acharya, Ryan J. Johnson, 2020-04-16 This volume explores Nietzsche's decisive encounter with the ancient philosopher Epicurus. The collected essays examine many previously unexplored and underappreciated convergences and investigate how essential Epicurus was to Nietzsche's philosophical project through two interrelated overarching themes: nature and ethics. Uncovering the nature of Nietzsche's reception of relation to and movement beyond Epicurus, contributors provide insights into the relationship between suffering, health, and philosophy in both thinkers. Nietzsche's stylistic analysis of Epicurus, the ethics of self-cultivation in Nietzsche's Epicureanism, practices of eating and thinking in Nietzsche and Epicurus, the temporality of Epicurean pleasure, the practice of the gay science and Epicureanism, and politics. The essays also provide creative comparisons with the Stoics, Hobbes, Mill, Guyau, Buddhism, and more. Nietzsche and Epicurus offers original and illuminating perspectives on Nietzsche's relation to the Hellenistic thinker in whom Nietzsche saw the embodiment of the practice of philosophy as an art of existing.
