American Letters and Letter-Writing Celeste-Marie Bernier, 2016-02-15 This comprehensive study by leading scholars in an important new field the history of letters and letter writing is essential reading for anyone interested in nineteenth century American politics history or literature Because of its mass literacy population mobility and extensive postal system nineteenth century America is a crucial site for the exploration of letters and their meanings whether they be written by presidents and statesmen scientists and philosophers novelists and poets feminists and reformers immigrants Native Americans or African Americans This book breaks new ground by mapping the voluminous correspondence of these figures and other important American writers and thinkers Rather than treating the letter as a spontaneous private document the contributors understand it as a self-conscious artefact circulating between friends and strangers and across multiple genres in ways that both make and break social ties Jack London: a Man in Search of Meaning Stewart Gabel, 2012-11 Jack

London was the best known and probably the most widely read American author at the turn of the 20th century London was interested in the issues of who humans are in relation to one another to other species and to life itself Much of London's life and writing can be viewed from psychological perspectives as an exploration of the issue of meaning in life generally and as a quest for meaning in his own life C.G. Jung was an early psychoanalyst who broke from Freud and established his own school of analytical psychology Jung was himself intensely concerned with the issue of meaning For Jung the decisive question for man is Is he related to something infinite or not page 325 Jack London certainly would have agreed with the crucial nature of this question In Jack London A Man in Search of Meaning Jungian Perspectives the author uses the prism of analytical psychology to examine London s life and quest for meaning from deeply psychological and archetypal perspectives that are revealed in London s writings both fictional and nonfictional The book begins with a brief biographical sketch and personality description of Jack London This is followed by a focus on the question of meaning in his life The next chapter addresses the issue of meaning from the perspective of analytical psychology Jung Selected fiction from three periods in London s career is considered analytically in subsequent chapters These periods are his early adult middle and last years The discussion of each work of fiction is preceded by a brief biographical statement of events in London s life at the time of the writing and a brief review of the narrative A concluding chapter summarizes London s quest for meaning and where it might have led him from the perspectives of analytical psychology if he had lived beyond his untimely death at 40 years of age There are two appendices One contains a longer biographical statement Appendix A The second Appendix B provides longer more detailed summaries of the works that are discussed These longer descriptions include quotes from the texts themselves that reveal the immediacy passion and soulful flavor of so much of London s writings Realism, Naturalism, and Local Color, 1865-1917 Matthew Joseph Bruccoli, Richard Layman, 1988 Concise Dictionary of American Literary Biography covers only the American authors most frequently studied in high school and college literature courses It extracts and fully updates essays in their entirety from the much larger Dictionary of Literary Biography series The 6 vol set begins each entry with a helpful chart that instantly shows the important places influences and relationships literary movements major themes cultural and artistic influences and social and economic influences that most affected the featured author s work The set is organized chronologically Each volume is devoted to a single historical period covering 30 40 representative writers from all genres They include Colonization to the American Renaissance 1640 1865 Realism Naturalism and Local Color 1865 1917 The Twenties 1917 1929 The Age of Maturity 1929 1941 The New Consciousness 1941 1968 Broadening Views 1968 1988 The Supplement to the 6 vol set Modern American Writers provides additional information on 20th century authors featured in the original volumes A Skeptic's Guide to Writers' Houses Anne Trubek, 2011-07-11 There are many ways to show our devotion to an author besides reading his or her works Graves make for popular pilgrimage sites but far more popular are writers house museums What is it we hope to accomplish by trekking to the home of a dead author We may go in search of the point of inspiration eager to stand on the very spot where our favorite literary characters first came to life and find ourselves instead in the house where the author himself was conceived or where she drew her last breath Perhaps it is a place through which our writer passed only briefly or maybe it really was a longtime home now thoroughly remade as a decorator s show house In A Skeptic s Guide to Writers Houses Anne Trubek takes a vexed often funny and always thoughtful tour of a goodly number of house museums across the nation In Key West she visits the shamelessly ersatz shrine to a hard living Ernest Hemingway while meditating on his lost Cuban farm and the sterile Idaho house in which he committed suicide In Hannibal Missouri she walks the fuzzy line between fact and fiction as she visits the home of the young Samuel Clemens and the purported haunts of Tom Sawyer Becky Thatcher and Injun Joe She hits literary pay dirt in Concord Massachusetts the nineteenth century mecca that gave home to Hawthorne Emerson and Thoreau and yet could not accommodate a surprisingly complex Louisa May Alcott She takes us along the trail of residences that Edgar Allan Poe left behind in the wake of his many failures and to the burned out shell of a California house with which Jack London staked his claim on posterity In Dayton Ohio a charismatic guide brings Paul Laurence Dunbar to compelling life for those few visitors willing to listen in Cleveland Trubek finds a moving remembrance of Charles Chesnutt in a house that no longer stands Why is it that we visit writers houses Although admittedly skeptical about the stories these buildings tell us about their former inhabitants Anne Trubek carries us along as she falls at least a little bit in love with each stop on her itinerary and finds in each some truth about literature history and contemporary America

Nineteenth-Century American Fiction on Screen R. Barton Palmer, 2007-03-08 The process of translating works of literature to the silver screen is a rich field of study for both students and scholars of literature and cinema The fourteen essays collected in this 2007 volume provide a survey of the important films based on or inspired by nineteenth century American fiction from James Fenimore Cooper's The Last of the Mohicans to Owen Wister's The Virginian Many of the major works of the American canon are included including The Scarlet Letter Moby Dick and Sister Carrie The starting point of each essay is the literary text itself moving on to describe specific aspects of the adaptation process including details of production and reception Written in a lively and accessible style the book includes production stills and full filmographies Together with its companion volume on twentieth century fiction the volume offers a comprehensive account of the rich tradition of American literature on screen

The Letters of Philip Webb, Volume III John Aplin, 2015-12-22 Philip Webb was a British architect known as a founder of the Arts and Crafts movement and also a key member of the Pre Raphaelite circle He had a long association with William Morris and was responsible for the design of the hugely influential Red House Morris's first home Webb's letters will be of interest to art and architecture historians
