Nuclear Systems Consuming Excess Plutonium E.R. Merz, Carl E. Walter, 2012-12-06 A survey of recent developments in the field of plutonium disposal by the application of advanced nuclear systems both critical and subcritical Current national R D plans are summarized The actinide fuelled critical reactors are associated with control problems since they tend to have a small delayed neutron fraction coupled with a small Doppler effect and a positive void coefficient Current thinking is turning to accelerator driven subcritical systems for the transmutation of actinides The book s conclusion is that the various systems proposed are technically feasible even though not yet technically mature The book presents a unique summary and evaluation of all relevant possibilities for burning surplus plutonium presented by experts from a variety of different disciplines and interests including the defence establishment The obvious issue the non proliferation of nuclear weapons is vital but the matter represents a complex technological challenge that also requires an assessment in economic terms
