The Haunted Self Surrealism Psychoanalysis Subjectivity:

The Haunted Self David Lomas, 2000-01-01 The question Who am I resounded throughout the surrealist movement The exploration of dreams and the unconscious prompted surrealists to reject the notion of a unified indivisible self by revealing the subject to be haunted by otherness and instability In this book David Lomas explores the surrealist concepts of the self and subjectivity from a psychoanalytic viewpoint Employing a series of case studies devoted to individual artists Lomas arrives at a radically new account of surrealist art and its cultural and intellectual roots Weaving together psychoanalytic and historical material the author analyses works by Ernst Dali Masson Miro and Picasso with regard to such themes as automatism hysteria the uncanny and the abject Lomas focuses closely on individual artworks examines the specific circumstances in which they were produced and offers new insights into the artists and their projects as well as the theories of Bataille Breton and others Lomas demonstrates the powerful connection between the history of psychoanalysis and the history of surrealism and along the way shows the unique value of psychoanalytic theory as a tool for the art historian BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved The Haunted Self David interviews to provoke a vital and nuanced discussion about contemporary artistic authorship How do emerging artists navigate intellectual property or work collectively and share the recognition How might a pseudonym aid activism Most strikingly she demonstrates how an alternative identity can challenge the art market and is symptomatic of greater cultural and political rebellion As such this book exposes the art world's financially incentivised infrastructures but also examines how they might be reshaped from within In an age of cuts to arts funding and forced self promotion this offers an important analysis of the pressing need for the artistic community to construct new ways to reinvent itself and incite fresh responses to its work

The Invention of Telepathy, 1870-1901 Roger Luckhurst, 2002 The Invention of Telepathy explores one of the enduring concepts to emerge from the late nineteenth century Telepathy was coined by Frederic Myers in 1882 He defined it as the communication of any kind from one mind to another independently of the recognised channels of sense By 1901 it had become a disputed phenomenon amongst physical scientists yet was the royal road to the unconscious mind Telepathy was discussed by eminent men and women of the day including Sigmund Freud Thomas Huxley Henry and William James Mary Kingsley Andrew Lang Vernon Lee W T Stead and Oscar Wilde Did telepathy signal evolutionary advance or possible decline Could it be a means of binding the Empire closer together or was it used by natives to subvert imperial communications Were women more sensitive than men and if so why Roger Luckhurst investigates these questions in an exciting and accessible study that mixes history of science with cultural history and literary analysis

J.G. Ballard's Surrealist Imagination Jeannette Baxter, 2016-12-05 Making the case that J G Ballard's fictional and non-fictional writings must be read within the framework of Surrealism Jeannette Baxter argues for a radical revisioning of Ballard that takes account of the political and ethical dimensions of his work Ballard's appropriation of diverse Surrealist aesthetic forms and political writings Baxter suggests are mobilised to contest official narratives of postwar history and culture and offer a series of counter historical and counter cultural critiques Thus Ballard's work must be understood as an exercise in Surrealist historiography that is politically and ethically engaged Placing Ballard's illustrated texts within this critical framework permits Baxter to explore the effects of photographs drawings and other visual symbols on the reading experience and the production of meaning Ballard's textual spectacles raise a variety of questions about the shifting role of the reader and the function of the written text within a predominantly visual culture while acknowledging the visual contexts of Ballard's Surrealist writings allows a very different historical picture of the author and his work to emerge

"Appropriated Photographs in French Surrealist Periodicals, 1924-1939" Linda Steer, 2017-07-05 The first monograph to analyze the Surrealist gesture of photographic appropriation this study examines found photographs in three French Surrealist reviews published in the 1920s and 1930s La Révolution surréaliste edited by André Breton Documents edited by Georges Bataille and Minotaure edited by Breton and others The book asks general questions about the production and deployment of meaning through photographs but addresses more specifically the construction of a Surrealist practice of photography through the gesture of borrowing and re contextualization and reveals something crucial both about Surrealist strategies and about the way photographs operate The book is structured around four case studies including scientific photographs of an hysteric in Charcot's clinic at the Salpêtrière hospital positioned as poetry rather than pathology and one of the first crime scene photographs depicting Jack the Ripper's last victim radically transformed into a work of art Linda Steer traces the trajectory of the found photographs from their first location to their location in a Surrealist periodical Her study shows that the act of removal and re framing highlights the instability and mutability of photographic meaning an instability and mutability that has consequences for our understanding both of photography and of Surrealism in the 1920s and 1930s Remade in America
