Korner, 2007-05-11 Essential hypertension EH is the most common type of high blood pressure and is responsible for much death and serious illness which has been the reason for the huge research effort to determine its causes However countless scientific articles still keep proclaiming that the causes of essential hypertension remain unknown In view of the number of publications that descend on the hypertension specialist like a waterfall such proclamations seem to overlook the considerable amount of knowledge that we already have about the etiology of EH The problem may be a lack of synthesis rather than a lack of information This book brings together some of this knowledge into a coherent and clinically relevant account about the pathogenesis of EH With an extremely broad reach this book aims to give a balanced view of the causes of

EH its neural genetic and environmental causes Cellular Organelles Edward Bittar,1995-12-08 The purpose of this volume is to provide a synopsis of present knowledge of the structure organisation and function of cellular organelles with an emphasis on the examination of important but unsolved problems and the directions in which molecular and cell biology are moving Though designed primarily to meet the needs of the first year medical student particularly in schools where the traditional curriculum has been partly or wholly replaced by a multi disciplinary core curriculum the mass of information made available here should prove useful to students of biochemistry physiology biology bioengineering dentistry and nursing It is not yet possible to give a complete account of the relations between the organelles of two compartments and of the mechanisms by which some degree of order is maintained in the cell as a whole However a new breed of scientists known as molecular cell biologists have already contributed in some measure to our understanding of several biological phenomena notably interorganelle communication Take for example intracellular membrane transport it can now be expressed in terms of the sorting targeting and transport of protein from the endoplasmic reticulum to another compartment This volume contains the first ten chapters on the subject of organelles The remaining four are in Volume 3 to which sections on organelle disorders and the extracellular matrix have been added Fuhrman & Zimmerman's Pediatric Critical Care E-Book Jerry J.
