EXPLORER™

The logo features a stylized 'GP' in a bold, italicized font. The 'G' and 'P' are interconnected, with the 'P' having a distinctive shape where the top bar is split into two segments. Below this, the word 'EXPLORER' is written in a clean, italicized, sans-serif font. A small trademark symbol (TM) is located at the end of the word.

The Last Race

The text 'The Last Race' is rendered in a highly stylized, italicized script font. The letters are thick and have a dynamic, flowing quality. The word 'The' is smaller and positioned to the left of 'Last'. The word 'Race' is the largest and most prominent, with long, sweeping tails on the letters 'a' and 'e'. The entire logo is set against a background of a blurred racetrack and a blue race car.

The Last Race:

The Final Race Eric Eichinger, 2018 On July 19 1924 Eric Liddell was on top of the world He was the most famous Briton at the time having just won the gold in the Olympic 400 meter race As the storm clouds of World War II rolled in Liddell lived purposefully even as his world crumbled and he experienced the horror and deprivations of a Japanese internment camp

The Last Road Race Richard Williams, 2013-10-17 The story of the 1957 Pescara Grand Prix the last race of the heroic age of motor racing There has been much talk of how Grand Prix motor racing has become rather dull with big name big brand winners ousting out all competition But it wasn't always so Once a romantic sport motor sport produced heroes whose individual skill and daring were paramount The 1957 Pescara Grand Prix marked the end of an era in motor racing Sixteen cars and drivers raced over public roads on the Adriatic coast in a three hour race of frightening speed and constant danger Stirling Moss won the race beating the great Juan Manuel Fangio in his final full season and ending years of supremacy by the Italian teams of Ferrari and Maserati Richard Williams brings this pivotal race back to life reminding us of how far the sport has changed in the intervening fifty years The narrative includes testaments from the four surviving drivers who competed Stirling Moss Tony Brooks Roy Salvadori and Jack Brabham

The Racing Game Marvin Scott, 2017-07-28 This study of a unique social world probes beneath the thrill and spectacle of horse racing into the lives of the honest boys the gypsies the manipulators the stoops and the chalk eaters the constituents of race track society and the players of the racing game With scientific precision and journalistic vigor Scott describes the everyday activities the objectives and strategies of those whose lives are organized around track proceedings and who compete with chance and one another The players in the racing game range from track owners to stable boys from law enforcers to lawbreakers and from casual sportsmen to pathologically addicted gamblers Considering the self-interests the normative and operational codes and the interactional relationships among the major types and subtypes of participants the author defines the components of strategic movement within the framework of rules and resources to show how a player's relations to the means of production governs his behavior The fruitful application of sociological theory and method to an unusually interesting social context makes this particularly useful still for courses in social problems and the sociology of organizations and of leisure

Gas Engine ,1901 Yachting ,1985-05 Visualising UK Horse Form System Mark Horrocks,2025-09-15 Visualising UK Horse Form UK Horse Racing System Visualising UK Horse Form What exactly does that mean In a nutshell it s a way of reading UK horse form in a race very quickly without taking any notes You achieve this by only looking at valid key horse form pointers and thus not wasting time The more information you try to process for a horse on a race card the faster you get brain fatigue and then you make mistakes The book concentrates on UK all weather handicap horse races but you can use this visualisation technique on national hunt jumps or flat racing on the turf as well I have a preference for low grade all weather racing but that is my choice Processing UK Horse Form Data With Your Brain This is difficult as most punters cannot retain horse form data in their brain for too long Some punters are better than others What am I talking about here Analyse a UK racing post race card with 8 runners and assess the form of each horse without taking notes easy or not It is very hard because most punters look at the wrong UK form data and there is a problem with this approach They simply process too much irrelevant data and their brains cannot retain and process it in that precise moment They often switch between screens to cross reference facts etc This causes you to lose focus and forget the horse form you have just previously processed Now do not get me wrong you will get better at doing this and retain data for longer When you look at the racing post race card you are trying to build a picture of the race that you are analysing During this visualisation process you must keep asking yourself why can that horse win this race What are the key horse form pointers that qualify this horse to win the race If you were laying a horse not to win a race you would reverse this process and ask yourself why the horse cannot win the race We will look at some examples later and it will become clearer
