

the legs to below the knees. Socks or stockings are luxuries, but woollen gaiters are occasionally worn. It is to her head-dress that the Kulu woman devotes all her arts of coquetry. The young girls go about bare-headed with their hair plaited into long pig-tails hanging down their backs, and sometimes lengthened by the addition of cotton thread for ornament only, be it said, for the contrast between hair and thread is too apparent to deceive. Older girls twist the pig-tail into coils arranged on the top of the head, with a coquettish little cap perched just above the temples or sometimes a larger cap crowning the chignon; but the favourite head-gear is a kerchief, black or scarlet, confining the whole of the hair, bound tightly above the temples and over the head so as to show the whole of the brow, and tied in a knot at the back of the neck. The whole is prettily set off by a silver ornament which secured to the centre of the kerchief on the top of the head supports a pendant hanging over the forehead, and two strips of dainty filigree work, which, drooping over either temple, are attached to rings in the ears. Great bunches of silver ear-rings are worn, and two nose-ornaments of gold, one a leaf-shaped pendant (bulak) carried by both maids and wives, but never by widows, and the other a plain large ring, the distinguishing mark of a married woman. The throat is often loaded with necklaces: one or two bracelets adorn each wrist; and silver anklets, sometimes plain and sometimes curb chain pattern, are peculiar to certain localities. The full show of ornaments is only exhibited at fairs and feasts, and women who on account of being in mourning are unable to wear their jewellery sometimes hire it out for small sums to others to wear upon such occasions.

A man's dress consists of a loose woollen tunic, white, grey, or brown, girt in at the waist with a sash. Loose woollen trousers, gathered in tight at the ankles, are added in cold weather or on gala occasions, but are often dispensed with on hot days or when hard work is required. A white or checked blanket like a plaid lends something of the picturesque to this loose fitting costume: it is worn round the chest, the ends crossing at the back and then brought forward over the shoulders from which they would hang down to the thighs were they not secured each by a large pin to the portion of the plaid crossing the chest and then flung back again over the shoulders. Between the two pins hangs a neat steel or brass chain supporting a bunch of small surgical instruments, a probe, a lancet, a pair of pincers and similar contrivances for operating on sheep and cattle. Otherwise no ornaments are ordinarily worn except occasionally a necklace or an amulet, or a charm in memory of a deceased relative. The head-dress is a round black cap, with a stiff edging, sometimes

The Kulunge Rai A Study In Kinship And Marriage Exchange:

The Kulunge Rai Charles McDougal, 1979 Socio anthropological study of the Kulunge Rais an ethnic group of eastern Nepal Culture, Creation, and Procreation Monika Böck, Aparna Rao, 2001-01-01 As reproduction is seen as central to kinship and the biological link as the primary bond between parents and their offspring Western perceptions of kin relations are primarily determined by ideas about consanguinity genealogical relations and genetic connections Advocates of cultural constructivism have taken issue with a concept that puts so much stress on heredity as being severely biased by western ideas of kinship Ethnosociologists in particular developed alternative systems using indigenous categories This symbolic approach has however been rejected by some scholars as plagued by the problems of the analytical separation of ideology from practice of largely overlooking relations of domination and of ignoring the questions of shared knowledge and choice This volume offers a corrective by discussing the constitution of kinship among different communities in South Asia and addressing the relationship between ideology and practice cultural models and individual strategies The Kulunge Rai Charles McDougal, 1979 Socio anthropological study of the Kulunge Rais an ethnic group of eastern Nepal Languages of the Greater Himalayan Region, Volume 4: A Grammar of Kulung Gerard Tolsma, 2006-05-01 This book is the first description of Kulung a complex pronominalising Kiranti Tibeto Burman language spoken in eastern Nepal It contains the phonology morphology and syntax as well as sample texts verbal paradigms and a Kulung English lexicon The data presented here were collected during four field trips which the author undertook to Nepal between 1992 and 1995 This grammar of Kulung is an exhaustive reference work for Tibeto Burman linguistics language typology and linguistic theory With financial support of the International Institute for Asian Studies www iias nl Barter, Exchange and Value Caroline Humphrey, Stephen Hugh-Jones, 1992-06-11 This novel treatment of barter represents a topical addition to the literature on economic anthropology Nature, Culture and Religion at the Crossroads of Asia Marie Lecomte-Tilouine, 2017-08-03 This book explores how ethnic groups living in the Himalayan regions understand nature and culture The first part addresses the opposition between nature and culture in Asia s major religious traditions such as Hinduism Buddhism Islam and Shamanism The second part brings together specialists of different representative groups living in the heterogeneous Himalayan region They examine how these indigenous groups perceive their world This includes understanding their mythic past in particular the place of animals and spirits in the world of humans as they see it and the role of ritual in the everyday lives of these people The book takes into account how these various perceptions of the Himalayan peoples are shaped by a globalized world The volume thus provides new ways of viewing the relationship between humans and their environment Religion, Secularism, and Ethnicity in Contemporary Nepal David N. Gellner, Sondra L. Hausner, Chiara Letizia, 2020-01-01 The socio political landscape of Nepal has been rocked by dramatic and far reaching changes in the past thirty years Following a ten year Maoist revolution and civil war the country has transitioned from a monarchy to a republic The former Hindu kingdom has declared its commitment to secularism without coming to any agreement on what secularism means or should mean in the Nepalese context What happens to religion under conditions of such rapid social and political change How do the changes in public festivals reflect and or create new group identities Is the gap between the urban and the rural narrowing How is the state dealing with Nepal's multicultural and multi religious society How are Nepalis understanding resisting and adapting ideas of secularism In order to answer these important questions this volume brings together eleven case studies by an international team of anthropologists and ethno Indologists of Nepal on such diverse topics as secularism individualism shamanism animal sacrifice the role of state functionaries in festivals clashes and synergies between Maoism and Buddhism and conversion to Christianity In an Afterword renowned political theorist Rajeev Bhargava presents a comparative analysis of Nepal's experiences and asks whether the country is finding its own solution to the conundrum of secularism

Nationalism and Ethnicity in a Hindu Kingdom D. Gellner, J. Pfaff-Czarnecka, J. Whelpton, 2012-12-06 With its systematic coverage of different groups this book demonstrates how similar trends of ethnic formation are affecting all parts of Nepal Yet within the boundaries of a single culturally diverse state very different forms of ethnicity have emerged This is a truly thematic collection with a well defined focus on the important contemporary topics of ethnic identity and nationalism The importance of the theme is self evident in a world attempting to come to grips with such problems in virtually all modern states Anyone with an interest in contemporary Nepal should study this volume Nepal is the only officially Hindu kingdom in the world and remains so in spite of a revolution or people's movement in 1990 which overthrew the partyless Panchayat regime and instituted a multiparty constitutional monarchy Since November 1994 it has also had an elected Communist government the first of its kind in South Asia This volume takes a long term view of the various processes of ethnic and national development that have been displayed both before and after 1990 It brings together twelve carefully chosen ethnographic and historical chapters covering all of the major ethnic groups and regions of Nepal

Shamanism and Violence Davide Torri, 2016-04-01 Proposing a new theoretical framework this book explores Shamanism's links with violence from a global perspective Contributors renowned anthropologists and authorities in the field draw on their research in Mongolia China Korea Malaysia Nepal India Siberia America Papua New Guinea Taiwan to investigate how indigenous shamanic cultures dealt and are still dealing with varying degrees of internal and external violence During ceremonies shamans act like hunters and warriors dealing with many states related to violence such as collective and individual suffering attack conflict and antagonism Indigenous religious complexes are often called to respond to direct and indirect competition with more established cultural and religious traditions which undermine the sociocultural structure the sense of identity and the state of well being of many indigenous groups This book explores a more sensitive vision of shamanism closer to the emic views of many indigenous groups

The Link with Nature and Divine Meditations in Asia Bernard Formoso, 1996 Peasant societies in many parts of the world regulate their relationship with the natural environment through earth gods who anchor a group of families not in genealogical terms as in the case of ancestors but in ecological terms The articles in this volume illustrate the role of and the cultural activities surrounding the earth gods in rural communities in Asian societies More specifically they show that within the Asian context it is possible to differentiate between two modes representing the earth gods and the relationship with nature i e one that corresponds to state societies and the other to tribal ones
