The Modernization of Fatherhood Ralph LaRossa, 1997 The period between World War I and World War II was an important time in the history of gender relations and of American fatherhood Revealing the surprising extent to which some of yesterday's fathers were involved with their children, The Modernization of Fatherhood recounts how fatherhood was reshaped during the Machine Age into the configuration we know today LaRossa explains that during the interwar period the image of the father as economic provider, pal, and male role model all in one became institutionalized Using personal letters and popular magazine and newspaper sources, he explores how the social and economic conditions of the Roaring Twenties and the Great Depression, a period of technical innovation as well as economic hardship, fused these expectations into a cultural ideal With chapters on the U.S. Children's Bureau, the fathercraft movement, the magazine industry, and the development of Parent's Magazine and the creation of Father's Day, this book is a major addition to the growing literature on masculinity and fatherhood

Formative Years Alexandra Minna Stern, Howard Markel, 2009-12-18 Sheds light on the development of the fields of pediatrics and child health during the last century

The Bottle, The Breast, and the State Maureen Rand Oakley, 2015-07-01 The Bottle, the Breast, and the State: The Politics of Infant Feeding in the United States explores the ways in which breastfeeding is both promoted and made difficult in the United States It also examines how the use of formula is often shamed yet encouraged by many standard medical and government practices Using both qualitative and quantitative methods it explores the politics policies and individual experiences surrounding infant feeding Oakley shows that a failure to separate the issue of breastfeeding rights and support from problematic approaches to breastfeeding advocacy in both academic scholarship and public discourse has led to a deadlock that prevents groups from working together in support of breastfeeding without shaming Drawing on a feminist ethic of care Oakley develops a caring infant feeding advocacy This approach values the caring work done by parents and recognizes the benefits of this work for society It promotes policies supportive of parenting in general and breastfeeding in particular in order to remove barriers that present a challenge to some women who wish to breastfeed Caring infant feeding advocacy also works to promote the development of better alternatives for those who do not breastfeed
