The Haunted Inkwell Art And Our Future:

The Haunted Inkwell Mark Patrick Hederman, 2001 The future is in our hands It is a precious gift that we can squander abuse exploit or distort at will There are many imperatives and considerations that should determine the steps forward we take but prominent among these should be the voice of artists and the educating influence of art This is not the only factor but it should be a decisive one Art can provide accurate and unflinching cardiography of the present with a prognosis of possibilities for the future which politicians and leaders ignore at their peril Taking a line from James Joyce as his title the author shows how art can be our compass in destitute times He uses the works of Seamus Heaney James Joyce Rainer Maria Rilke Wole Soyinka and Iris Murdoch to illustrate how this can be done

Iris Murdoch and the Western Theological Imagination Miles Leeson, Frances White, 2025-07-26 Scholarly interest in theological aspects of Murdoch's fiction and philosophy took off slowly It was thirty years after her writing debut that the first work taking detailed notice of the theological language deployed by this overtly atheist author appeared and it was a further decade before theologians began to engage with Murdoch's work together But it was not until the twenty first century that this aspect of Murdoch's thought and imagination began to receive sustained attention This collection seeks to build on this foundation begun forty years ago and to expand the work in this area of Murdoch studies which has lately been gathering momentum This project consolidates earlier discussion of the vital part theology plays in Murdoch's thought and then takes the debate in new directions Contributors include a wide range of current Murdoch scholars from diverse disciplines who develop debate about this subject in a variety of innovative and fruitful ways to inspire future works in this area of Murdoch studies
