Rajczak Nelson, 1900-01-01 It's hard to fathom what it would be like crossing 100 miles 1770 km of Alaskan wilderness on a dogsled The frigid conditions alone would make many adventurers think twice about this challenge Throw in unexpected encounters with angry moose and dangerous journeys across melting lakes and readers have an idea of what the remarkable race called the Iditarod is all about From its heroic beginnings to its most amazing winners all aspects of this dogsled race are covered with special attention to the real athletes the dogs Mush! Born to Run Albert Lewis, 2013 It's a familiar image a line of dogs surging through snow along the Iditarod trail It can be easy to forget that each team is made up of individual dogs each one bred and trained to perform at the pinnacle of canine ability Albert Lewis a professional photographer and dog lover was skeptical of the race when he first moved to Alaska but after seeing the dogs excitement at the Iditarod starting line and experiencing the mushers deep connection with these athletes his perception of the race was forever changed Determined to show the world the heart and soul of these animal athletes that run thousands of miles he took his camera and set out to revolutionize our image of sled dogs In Born to Run Lewis stops the dogs long enough to spotlight them as individuals letting their personalities shine through Lewis draws on his experience as a fashion photographer capturing unique moments of stunning beauty and stoic grace emphasizing their athleticism even as they're standing still Additional photos show the dogs interacting with their mushers during care and training The full page photos are finely detailed and readers will find themselves nearly reaching out to stroke the dogs on the pages Accompanied by just enough text to provide each dog's name age and trail miles the photos are left to speak for
