Narins, Meta Virant-Doberlet, Andreas Wessel, 2019-11-29 This volume is a self contained companion piece to Studying Vibrational Communication published in 2014 within the same series The field has expanded considerably since then and has even acquired a name of its own biotremology In this context the book reports on new concepts in this fascinating discipline and features chapters on state of the art methods for studying behavior tied to substrate borne vibrations as well as an entire section on applied biotremology Also included are a historical contribution by pioneers in the field and several chapters reviewing the advances that have been made regarding specific animal taxa Other new topics covered are vibrational communication in vertebrates multimodal communication and biotremology in the classroom as well as in art and music Given its scope the book will appeal to all those interested in communication and vibrational behavior but also to those seeking to learn about an ancient mode of communication

Behaviour and Ecology of Spiders Carmen Viera, Marcelo O. Gonzaga, 2017-11-02 Within the last few decades arachnology in the Neotropical region has experienced a great development filling the knowledge gap in one of the most diverse regions of the world Nevertheless large geographical areas remain poorly sampled especially within the Amazon and new genera and species have been continuously discovered even in urban areas In congruence with the recent improvements in research several aspects of the ecology behaviour and natural history of spiders such as interactions with other predators and parasitoids social interactions dispersal patterns habitat requirements mating behaviors among others are being carefully investigated These recent contributions incorporate substantial information on the preexisting knowledge on these subjects every year Our main objective with this book is to present a summary on these new researches and on the currently knowledge on the main subjects involved in the general theme emphasizing the contribution of the rich fauna of the Neotropical region to the research of behaviour and ecology of the spiders

The Ecology of Animal Senses Gerhard von der Emde, Eric Warrant, 2015-12-16 The collection of chapters in this book present the concept of matched filters response characteristics matching the characteristics of crucially important sensory inputs which allows detection of vital sensory stimuli while sensory inputs not necessary for the survival of the animal tend to be filtered out or sacrificed The individual contributions discuss that the evolution of sensing systems resulted from the necessity to achieve the most efficient sensing of vital information at the lowest possible energetic cost Matched filters are found in all senses including vision hearing olfaction mechanoreception electroreception and infrared sensing and different cases will be referred to in detail
