Mlenga, Joyce

Spirit Ridden Konde 1925:

The Spirit-ridden Konde Duncan R. Mackenzie, 1925 The Fear of the Dead in Primitive Religion Vol. I James George Frazer, 1922-06-14 On the question of how far the almost universal belief in the survival of the human spirit after death which is implied by the fear of the dead can be regarded as evidence of the truth of that survival or opinions will doubtless always be divided From the crudities inconsistencies and absurdities in which the belief commonly clothes itself an impartial observer might be tempted to conclude that the spirits of the dead exist only in the imagination of the fond and foolish portion of mankind but this conclusion so little consonant with the natural wishes and perhaps the instincts of humanity is not likely to be ever popular and it seems probable that the great majority of our species will continue to acquiesce in a belief so flattering to human vanity and so comforting to human sorrow And it cannot be denied that the champions of eternal life have entrenched themselves in a strong if not impregnable position for if it is impossible to prove the immortality of the soul it is in the present state of our knowledge equally impossible to disprove it But the batteries of science have an ever longer range and on this side they may yet make a deep breach in the frowning bastions of faith Sir James G Frazer 1854 1941 is famous as the author of The Golden Bough

Dual Religiosity in Northern Malawi Mlenga, Joyce, 2016-12-13 Over a century much of Africa south of the Sahara embraced the Christian religion Malawi where 80% of the population identify as Christian is no exception nor are the Ngonde at its northern border with Tanzania While it is difficult to find someone who does not claim to be a Christian African traditional religion is by no means dead and often practiced by many While the two religions are not mixed but they are both realities in many a Christians life though realities of a different kind The author explores the intricate and often varied relationship between the two and considers factors which increase or decrease dual religiosity

A Bibliography of the Negro in Africa and America, 1928 The Fear of the Dead in Primitive Religion James George Frazer, 1966 Includes works first published during the period 1933 36 Sir James G Frazer 1854 1941 is famous as the author of The Golden Bough

Dual Religiosity in Northern Malawi Joyce Mlenga, 2016-12-13 Over a century much of Africa south of the Sahara embraced the Christian religion Malawi where 80% of the population identify as Christian is no exception nor are the Ngonde at its northern border with Tanzania While it is difficult to find someone who does not claim to be a Christian African traditional religion is by no means dead and often practiced by many While the two religions are not mixed but they are both realities in many a Christians life though realities of a different kind The author explores the intricate and often varied relationship between the two and considers factors which increase or decrease dual religiosity

Crossing Colonial Historiographies Anne Digby, Projit B. Mukharji, 2010-04-16 This book offers an innovative engagement with the diverse histories of colonial and indigenous medicines Engagement with different kinds of colonialism and varied indigenous socio political cultures has led to a wide range of approaches and increasingly distinct traditions of historical writing about colonial and indigenous modes of healing have emerged in the various regions formerly ruled by different colonial powers The volume offers a much needed opportunity to explore new conceptual perspectives and encourages critical reflection on how scholars research specialisms have influenced their approaches to the history of medicine and healing The book includes contributions on different geographical regions in Asia Africa and the Americas and within the varied contexts of Chinese Spanish Portuguese German Dutch and British colonialisms It deals with issues such as internal colonialism the plural history of objects transregional circulation and entanglement and the historicisation of medical historiography The chapters in the volume explore the scope for conceptual interaction between authors from diverse disciplines and different regions highlighting the synergies and thematic commonalities as well as differences and divergences

Christianity in Northern Malawi T. Jack Thompson, 2016-05-18 Christianity in Northern Malawi deals with the interaction of the missionary methods of the Scottish missionary Donald Fraser and the traditional culture of the Ngoni people of northern Malawi in the late 19th and early 20th centuries It looks at Ngoni origins and culture prior to first contacts with the missionaries at the early life and ideas of Fraser and at Fraser's disagreements with some of his Scottish colleagues There are also sections on Ngoni interactions with the early colonial government and the development of a genuinely Ngoni Church The book uses primary and oral sources some of which were not previously available

Medicine, mobility and the empire Markku Hokkanen, 2017-11-02 David Livingstone's Zambesi expedition marked the beginning of an ongoing series of medical exchanges between the British and Malawians This book explores these entangled histories by placing medicine in the frameworks of mobilities and networks that extended across Southern Africa and beyond It provides a new approach to the study of medicine and empire Drawing on a range of written and oral sources the book argues that mobility was a crucial aspect of intertwined medical cultures that shared a search for therapy in changing conditions Mobile individuals ideas and materials played key roles in medical networks that involved both professionals and laypeople These networks connected colonial medicine with Protestant Christianity and migrant labour The book will be of value to scholars and students of history and anthropology of colonialism and medicine as well as a wider readership interested in the plural search for health in Africa and globally

The Chiwaya War E. Page, 2022-02-28 The Chiwaya War's basic conclusions are that the First World War was a major turning point in the history of Malawi's peoples creating the first glimmers of a shared national identity and that it marked more than any event before or since the entry of Malawians into the emerging modern world system far more quickly than likely they and certainly even the most enlightened British colonial administrators of the time would have preferred
