The Dead Girl In A Lace Dress:

The Dead Girl in a Lace Dress Jeanne Hyvrard, Jean-Pierre Menth, Jennifer R. Waelti-Walters, 1996 First published in French in 1990 this is Jeanne Hyvrard's most recent novel. It is a powerful and intensely moving presentation of an oppressive mother-daughter relationship. The first-person narrator is a little girl called Annie who recounts in a series of brief episodes her attempt to separate from a mother who appears intent on swallowing up her identity. The series of reflections as the little girl struggles to understand what is happening to her and how to survive is conveyed in a language so simple and subtle it can be savoured almost as poetry. Beyond Écriture Féminine Cathy Helen Wardle, 2007 Beyond Écriture féminine is the first book to be published exploring the work of the contemporary French author Jeanne Hyvrard. 1945 from her early novels of the 1970s up to some of her most recent texts. Moving critical accounts of Hyvrard beyond a focus upon écriture féminine it identifies the patterns through which her writing repeats and transforms creation mythology, her own oeuvre and her own life, examining how intertextual repetitions bind her work together into a complex and ever-expanding web of allusions and resonances which engages the reader in a process of constant re-interpretation, challenging notions of linearity and reflecting the chaotic reality of life in the Hyvrardian world. The Cambridge Introduction to French Literature Brian Nelson, 2015-06-05 In this highly accessible introduction Brian Nelson provides an overview of French literature: its themes and forms, traditions and transformations from the Middle Ages to the present. Major writers including Francophone authors writing from areas other than France are discussed chronologically in the context of their times to provide a sense of the development of the French literary tradition and the strengths of some of the most influential writers within it. Nelson offers close readings of exemplary passages from key works presented in English translation and with the original French. The exploration of the work of important writers including Villon, Racine, Molière, Voltaire, Balzac, Flaubert, Zola, Proust, Sartre and Beckett highlights the richness and diversity of French literature.

Girls Fall Down Maggie Helwig, 2008 The 2012 One Book Toronto title. Shortlisted for the Toronto Book Award. A girl faints in the Toronto subway. Her friends are taken to the hospital with unexplained rashes; they complain about a funny smell in the subway. Swarms of police arrive and then the hazmat team. Panic ripples through the city and words like poisoning and terrorism become airborne. Soon people are collapsing all over the city in subways and streetcars and malls. Alex was witness to this first episode. He's a photographer of injuries and deaths for his job at the hospital and of life in his evening explorations of the city. Alex's sight is failing and as he rushes to capture his vision of Toronto on film he encounters an old girlfriend, the one who shattered his heart in the eighties while she was fighting for abortion rights and social justice and he was battling his body's chemical demons. But now Susie Paul is in the midst of her own crisis: her schizophrenic brother is missing and the streets of Toronto are more hostile than ever. Maggie Helwig, author of the critically lauded Between Mountains, has fashioned a novel not of bold actions but of small
