The Hollywood Exiles:

The Hollywood Exiles John Baxter, 1976 Baxter describes the interaction between the American film industry and international actors and directors The Hollywood Exiles John Baxter, 1976 Hollywood Exiles in Europe Rebecca Prime, 2014-01-14 Rebecca Prime documents the untold story of the American directors screenwriters and actors who exiled themselves to Europe as a result of the Hollywood blacklist During the 1950s and 1960s these Hollywood migrants directed wrote or starred in almost one hundred European productions their contributions ranging from crime film masterpieces like Du rififi chez les hommes 1955 Jules Dassin director to international blockbusters like The Bridge on the River Kwai 1957 Carl Foreman and Michael Wilson screenwriters and acclaimed art films like The Servant 1963 Joseph Losey director At once a lively portrait of a lesser known American lost generation and an examination of an important transitional moment in European cinema the book offers a compelling argument for the significance of the blacklisted migrants to our understanding of postwar American and European cinema and Cold War relations Prime provides detailed accounts of the production and reception of their European films that clarify the ambivalence with which Hollywood was regarded within postwar European culture Drawing upon extensive archival research including previously classified material Hollywood Exiles in Europe suggests the need to rethink our understanding of the Hollywood blacklist as a purely domestic phenomenon By shedding new light on European cinema's changing relationship with Hollywood the book illuminates the postwar shift from national to transnational cinema

Home, Exile, Homeland Hamid Naficy, 2013-08-21 Global changes in capital power technology and the media have caused massive shifts in how we define home and community leaving redrawn territories and globalized contexts This interdisciplinary study of the media brings together essays by accomplished critics to discuss the way film television music and computer and electronic media are shaping identities and cultures in an increasingly globalized world Ranging from intensely personal to highly theoretical the contributors explore our complex negotiation of home and homeland in a postmodern world Contributors Homi Bhabha Thomas Elsaesser Rosa Linda Fregoso Teshome H Gabriel George Lipsitz Margaret Morse David Morley John Peters Patricia Seed Ella Shohat and Vivian Sobchack European Writers in Exile Robert C. Hauhart, Jeff Birkenstein, 2018-10-26 European Writers in Exile collects a series of original essays that address the writers universal existential dilemma when viewed through the lens of exile who am I where am I from and what do I write and to whom While we often understand the term exile to refer to writers who have either been forced to leave their home country or region or chosen self exile this term need not be defined so narrowly and the contributors to this volume explore a range of interesting and evolving definitions Various countries in Europe have long been both a refuge for people and writers from many countries and a strife torn region which has forced many to flee within the continent or beyond it The phrase in exile involves writers moving across borders in multiple directions and for multiple reasons including for reasons of duress or personal quest and these themes are addressed and critiqued in these essays This volume naturally examines the cataclysmic and near universal exilic experiences relating to the world wars including essays on Thomas Mann Vladimir Nabokov Hannah Arendt and Leo Strauss Additionally essays address the unique early twentieth century experiences of Emile Zola Franz Kafka Joseph Conrad and James Joyce More contemporary essay subjects include Milan Kundera Norman Manea Eva Hoffman Caryl Phillips and W G Sebald This collection of transnational globalized European literature studies envisions understanding the intersection of our contemporary world and various writers in exile in new cultural historical spatial and epistemological frameworks How does literary production in an increasingly globalized world when seen from exile affect a view back towards a country or region left behind Or conversely how does exile push a writer to look outward to new trans nationalized space s These and other questions are important to investigate Taken in sum European Writers in Exile offers an academically rigorous important and cohesive volume The Cold War and Entertainment Television Lori Maguire, 2016-08-17 An essential dimension of the Cold War took place in the realm of ideas and culture While much work exists on cinema relatively little research has been conducted on this subject in relation to television despite the latter being a technology and popular cultural form that emerged during this period This book rectifies that absence by examining the impact of the Cold War on entertainment television and underlines the comparative aspect by studying programs from both blocs without forgetting of course the outsize impact of American television Although most of the focus is on the two main protagonists the US and the USSR chapters also consider programming from the UK Czechoslovakia Romania and both East and West Germany This book represents a contribution to the debate about the cultural Cold War through a rigorously comparative analysis of the two blocs For this reason the approach used is thematic The study begins by considering the subject of censorship and then goes on to look at the very particular case of the two Germanys A series of comparative genre studies follow including police and war variety shows and documentaries and docudramas Perhaps surprisingly the similarities are often greater than the differences between television in the two blocs The Making of Exile Cultures Hamid Naficy, 1993-01-01 Using Iranian television as a case study The Making of Exile Cultures explores the seemingly contradictory way in which immigrant media and cultural productions serve as the source both of resistance and opposition to domination by host and home country's social values while simultaneously acting as vehicles for personal and cultural transformation and the assimilation of those values Prologue, 1988
