Film and Video Intermediality Janna Houwen, 2017-07-13 In Film and Video Intermediality Janna Houwen innovatively rewrites the concept of medium specificity in order to answer the questions what is meant by video and what is meant by film. How are these two media to be understood? How can film and video be defined as distinct specific media? In this era of mixed moving media it is vital to ask these questions precisely and especially on the media of video and film. Mapping the specificity of film and video is indispensable in analyzing and understanding the many contemporary intermedial objects in which film and video are mixed or combined.

The Business of Children's Entertainment Norma Odom Pecora, 2002-03-06 For over 20 years the development of children's television programming has been subsidized by toy manufacturers. The result has been an increased commercialisation of children's popular culture: the creation of a material world of childhood characterized by brand name toys, games, clothing, and television characters. Drawing on historical background and case studies, this book presents a unique look at the development of children as targets of the media and commercial industries and examines the economic and social forces that have defined the evolution of children's entertainment. This volume is of interest to professionals and students in media studies, mass communication, and related fields. Readers interested in contemporary children's culture and the content of children's programming.
