The Human Exile:

Time in Exile Marcia Sá Cavalcante Schuback, 2020-02-10 This book is a philosophical reflection on the experience of time from within exile Its focus on temporality is unique as most literature on exile focuses on the experience of space as exile involves dislocation and moods of nostalgia and utopia Marcia S Cavalcante Schuback proposes that in exile time is experienced neither as longing back to the lost past nor as wanting a future to come but rather as a present without anchors or supports She articulates this present as a gerundive mode in which the one who is in exile discovers herself simply being exposed to the uncanny experience of having lost the past and not having a future To explore this she establishes a conversation among three authors whose work has exemplified this sense of gerundive time the German philosopher Martin Heidegger the French writer and essayist Maurice Blanchot and the Brazilian writer Clarice Lispector The book does not aim to discuss how these authors understand the relation between time and exile but presents a conversation with them in relation to this question that reflects new aspects in their work Attempting to think and express this difficult sense of time from within exile Time in Exile engages with the relation between thought and language and between philosophy and literature Departing from concrete existential questions S Cavalcante Schuback reveals new philosophical and theoretical modes to understand what it means to be present in times of exile

The Human Exile Bela Fischer, 1974-01-01 Faith in Exile Joseph T. Kelley, 2003 This beautifully written book points the way for all those who feel for whatever reason displaced from their church and exiled from their rightful relationship with God Faith in Exile shows how a rich spiritual life is possible even without institutional religion Using universal themes of place diligence and hope the author addresses the yearnings of all seekers encouraging them on their path to God Warmly inviting this new book helps seekers find a way back from exile to spirituality and to themselves shows how spirituality happens in the here and now the everyday helps seekers find the displaced God who followed them into exile

Exile David Patterson, 2021-12-14 The life of a human community rests on common experience Yet in modern life there is an experience common to all that threatens the very basis of community the experience of exile No one in the modern world has been spared the encounter with homelessness Refugees and fugitives the disillusioned and disenfranchised grow in number every day Why does it happen What does it mean And how are we implicated David Patterson responds to these and related questions by examining exile a primary motif in Russian thought over the last century and a half By exile he means not only a form of punishment but an existential condition Drawing on texts by such familiar figures as Dostoevsky Tolstoy Solzhenitsyn and Brodsky as well as less thoroughly examined figures including Florensky Shestov Tertz and Gendeleev Patterson moves beyond the political and geographical fact of exile to explore its spiritual metaphysical and linguistic aspects Thus he pursues the connections between exile and identity identity and meaning meaning and language Patterson shows that the problem of meaning in human life is a problem of homelessness that the effort to return from exile is an effort to return meaning to the word and that the exile of the word is an exile of the human being By making heard voices from the Russian wilderness Patterson makes visible the wilderness of the world

Exile and the Jews Nancy E. Berg, Marc Saperstein, 2024-04-08 This first comprehensive anthology examining Jewish responses to exile from the biblical period to our modern day gathers texts from all genres of Jewish literary creativity to explore how the realities and interpretations of exile have shaped Judaism Jewish politics and individual Jewish identity for millennia Ordered along multiple arcs from universal to particular collective to individual and mythic symbolic to prosaic everyday living the chapters present different facets of exile as human condition in history and life in holiday rituals in language as penance and atonement as internalized experience in relation to the Divine Presence and more By illuminating the multidimensional nature of exile political philosophical religious psychological and mythological widely divergent evaluations of Jewish life in the Diaspora emerge The word exile and its Hebrew equivalent galut evoke darkness bleakness and yet the condition offers spiritual renewal and engenders great expressions of Jewish cultural creativity the Babylonian Talmud medieval Jewish philosophy golden age poetry and modern Jewish literature Exile and the Jews will engage students academics and general readers in contemplating immigration displacement evolving identity and more

Women in Exile and Alienation Kaptan Singh, 2016-06-22 Since World War II exile and alienation have become two of the most prominent themes in world literature Canadian and Indian literatures are no exception Modern human civilisation is passing through a terrible ordeal following on from the catastrophic consequences of two world wars and many people have been overwhelmed and overawed by the growth of science technology and urbanisation Alienation a feeling of not belonging has filled the life of modern man with uncertainties and disappointments obstructions and frustrations Indian and Canadian literatures are currently two of the most acclaimed forms of global literature with major themes including a search for identity a struggle for survival and self and social isolation and it is not surprising that female writers are major voices in both Indian and Canadian literature There is a heavy imbalance of power between two sexes in both cultures where men are considered to be domineering and the centre of the family while women are regarded as subordinate to men Women's suppression compels them to live in their self exiled and alienated world The works of Margaret Laurence and Anita Desai depict heart rending facts and bitter realities which women have to face in an emotionless modern society Since the patriarchal structure is prevalent in India and Canada women are categorised as second rate citizens and are treated as liabilities by their families due to a lack of financial power In the absence of any economic social emotional and financial support they also consider themselves inferior to men Time and again they revolt against the mechanical and merciless treatment of their family and society and sometimes they choose self exile as a safeguard against the callous and selfish treatment of their family members Their inner desire to revolt against an oppressive society and the prevailing cultural norm only increases their isolation In their works Laurence and Desai have unveiled the tortured psyche of sensitive women who are unable to share their feelings with others and are destined to live an emotionally deprived life The Dialectics of Exile Sophia A. McClennen, 2004 The history of exile literature is as old as the history of writing itself Despite this vast and varied literary tradition criticism of exile writing has tended to analyze these works according to a binary logic where exile either produces creative freedom or it traps the writer in restrictive nostalgia The Dialectics of Exile Nation Time Language and Space in Hispanic Literatures offers a theory of exile writing that accounts for the persistence of these dual impulses and for the ways that they often co exist within the same literary works Focusing on writers working in the latter part of the twentieth century who were exiled during a historical moment of increasing globalization transnational economics and the theoretical shifts of postmodernism Sophia A McClennen proposes that exile literature is best understood as a series of dialectic tensions about cultural identity Through comparative analysis of Juan Goytisolo Spain Ariel Dorfman Chile and Cristina Peri Rossi Uruguay this book explores how these writers represent exile identity Each chapter addresses dilemmas central to debates over cultural identity such as nationalism versus globalization time as historical or cyclical language as representationally accurate or disconnected from reality and social space as utopic or dystopic McClennen demonstrates how the complex writing of these three authors functions as an alternative discourse of cultural identity that not only challenges official versions imposed by authoritarian regimes but also tests the limits of much cultural criticism
