Excerpt from The Life of Sir Henry Vane the Younger With a History of the Events of His Time My first studies in the history of the times dealt with in this book appeared in two articles on The Republicans of the Commonwealth in the Westminster Review for July 1871 and January 1873 Since then I have kept on collecting books and visiting places of interest connected with the civil wars It would form a fine illustration of the inconstancy of fame to pass in review the wanderings of historiographers in devious and opposite ways about the characters of the great actors and the nature of the events of that wonderful time It is often said that facts are stubborn things in this field of history they have proved more flexible than fiction I have avoiding controversies tried to make the facts cry out My own views have been formed from a study of original documents Later histories and commentaries thereon I have not read or only looked at after my pages were composed in order to see if they have cited any authorities not already consulted by me It would however be ungrateful not to acknowledge the help and guidance which I have derived from the works of Mr John Forster and Mr Bisset About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works The History and Antiquities of the County Palatine of Durham William Fordyce,1857
