Selected Works of Ray Cummings Raymond King Cummings,2020-09-28 Fear struck us then We searched at first laughingly then with stark horror overwhelming us The little island was all too easy to search There were no caves no cliff over which she could have fallen We had seen all the beach and the near by water within a few moments after her disappearance Surely there had not been time for her to swim out and be drowned She was a fair swimmer and cautious for all her youth And even if she had gone back in the water and got into distress we were so close we could have heard at once any call she made But she was gone Vanished No boat had landed that could have taken her That was impossible without our seeing it over that reach of empty sea I recall our frantic search Then at last Drake and I alone frantically rowed back home to tell father It was like a dream of horror Father s white solemn face He never once reproached Drake or me He telephoned the village Then came another trip to the island in a launch with grave faced men But Dianne was never found We brought back her clothes that lay untouched there by the underbrush at the beach I could not look at them but went into my bedroom and lay on the bed and sobbed It was the first tragedy that life had brought me Night had fallen when Drake came to me He leaned over me sympathetically Take it easy kid His own face was white and drawn he loved Dianne as much as I did but he was older more stoical Father wants to see us Frank Get hold of yourself His arm went around my shoulder and I huddled against him Take it easy wash your face and come on down It was about Dianne father had something to tell us We faced him in the living room He closed its doors Sit down lads It may have been in Drake s thoughts certainly it was in mine that now father was about to blame us I had felt those hours sobbing on the bed that somehow I was to blame That incident in the water when I had annoyed Dianne about her hair wild thoughts swept me that I had annoyed her and she had committed suicide I had already told father about it told him in the launch He had listened and waved it away He sat facing us now a slender solemn man of fifty with iron gray hair and thin studious face His eyes behind his big horn rimmed spectacles seemed unnaturally bright but gentle He said Don t look at me like that lads I ve no intention of reproaching you And then he told us in a burst without preface what we had never suspected You were about two years old Frank and you Drake about eight It was the year before your mother died She and I went to Bird s Nest Island leaving you children at home This same island A summer day he said just about like this We went for a picnic just as you did today It was fifteen years ago We were wandering about the little island your mother and I We heard a wailing cry an infant s In a thicket we found a little girl baby Unharmed An infant about a year old who evidently had been asleep and now had awakened and was crying There was no boat in sight about this island We concluded that some one had been there abandoned the baby and departed We took the baby home No one ever came to claim her It was Dianne

Becoming Marc Johnson,2010 They wake and find themselves alone in a world where dreams are tangible Some find the world dark some find it home but all look into the dark uncertainty of it and find themselves lost For them Becoming is a beginning and it is from this beginning that they each find themselves wandering a dark world looking for some trace of their former humanity if it was ever there to begin with The hero Mahavir finds himself conflicted between losing his own life for the human beings that he despises or simply leaving them behind As he comes to know Joseph and his father and Lila and her brother he struggles to move away from the fate that dreams have allotted to him and realizes that even the power of those dreams cannot take away his choice Regardless of the strength of the nightmares that plague the world around him he knows that it is only his decision that will determine the fate of men

Haunting Realities Monika Elbert, Wendy Ryden, 2017-06-20 An innovative collection of essays examining the sometimes paradoxical alignment of Realism and Naturalism with the Gothic in American literature to highlight their shared qualities Following the golden age of British Gothic in the late eighteenth century the American Gothic's pinnacle is often recognized as having taken place during the decades of American Romanticism However Haunting Realities explores the period of American Realism the end of the nineteenth century to discover evidence of fertile ground for another age of Gothic proliferation At first glance Naturalist Gothic seems to be a contradiction in terms While the Gothic is known for its sensational effects with its emphasis on horror and the supernatural the doctrines of late nineteenth century Naturalism attempted to move away from the aesthetics of sentimentality and stressed sobering mechanistic views of reality steeped in scientific thought and the determinism of market values and biology Nonetheless what binds Gothicism and Naturalism together is a vision of shared pessimism and the perception of a fearful lingering presence that ominously haunts an impending modernity Indeed it seems that in many Naturalist works reality is so horrific that it can only be depicted through Gothic tropes that prefigure the alienation and despair of modernism In recent years research on the Gothic has flourished yet there has been no extensive study of the links between the Gothic and Naturalism particularly those which stem from the early American Realist tradition Haunting Realities is a timely volume that addresses this gap and is an important addition to scholarly work on both the Gothic and Naturalism in the American literary tradition
