The Dead Secret Wilkie Collins, 2020-03-10 Will she last out the night I wonder Look at the clock Mathew Ten minutes past twelve She HAS lasted the night out She has lived Robert to see ten minutes of the new day These words were spoken in the kitchen of a large country house situated on the west coast of Cornwall The speakers were two of the men servants composing the establishment of Captain Treverton an officer in the navy and the eldest male representative of an old Cornish family Both the servants communicated with each other restrainedly in whispers sitting close together and looking round expectantly toward the door whenever the talk flagged between them It s an awful thing said the elder of the men for us two to be alone here at this dark time counting out the minutes that our mistress has left to live Robert said the other you have been in the service here since you were a boy did you ever hear that our mistress was a play actress when our master married her How came you to know that inquired the elder servant sharply Hush cried the other rising quickly from his chair

The Dead Secret Wilkie Collins, 2020-03-21 What shock had stricken her hair in the very maturity of its luxuriance with the hue of an unnatural old age Was it a serious illness or a dreadful grief that had turned her gray in the prime of her womanhood That question had often been agitated among her fellow servants who were all struck by the peculiarities of her personal appearance and rendered a little suspicious of her as well by an inveterate habit that she had of talking to herself Inquire as they might however their curiosity was always baffled Nothing more could be discovered than that Sarah Leeson was in the common phrase touchy on the subject of her gray hair and her habit of talking to herself and that Sarah Leeson s mistress had long since forbidden every one from her husband downward to ruffle her maid s tranquillity by inquisitive questions
