Furneaux, 1908 The Devon Beach and Cove Guide Robert Hesketh, 2010 Coastal Works Nicholas Allen, Nick Groom, Jos Smith, 2017-07-04 In all the complex cultural history of the islands of Britain and Ireland the idea of the coast as a significant representative space is critical For many important artists coastal space has figured as a site from which to braid ideas of empire nation region and archipelago They have been drawn to the coast as a zone of geographical uncertainty in which the self definitions of the nation founder they have been drawn to it as a peripheral space of vestigial wildness of island retreats and experimental living as a network of diverse localities richly endowed with distinctive forms of cultural heritage and as a dynamically interconnected ecosystem which is at the same time the historic site of significant developments in fieldwork and natural science This collection situates these cultures of the Atlantic edge in a series of essays that create new contexts for coastal study in literary history and criticism The contributors frame their research in response to emerging conversations in archipelagic criticism the blue humanities and island studies the essays challenging the reader to reconsider ideas of margin periphery and exchange These twelve case studies establish the coast as a crucial location in the imaginative history of Britain Ireland and the north Atlantic edge Coastal Works will appeal to readers of literature and history with an interest in the sea the environment and the archipelago from the 18th century to the present Accessible innovative and provocative Coastal Works establishes the important role that the coast plays in our cultural imaginary and suggests a range of methodologies to represent relationships between land sea and cultural work The Sea Richard Hamblyn, 2021-10-13 Sailing across time and geography the imaginary and the real The Sea chronicles the many physical and cultural meanings of the watery abyss This book explores the sea and its meanings from ancient myths to contemporary geopolitics from Atlantis to the Mediterranean migrant crisis Richard Hamblyn traces a cultural and geographical journey from estuary to abyss beginning with the topographies of the shoreline and ending with the likely futures of our maritime environments Along the way he considers the sea as a site of work and endurance of story and song of language leisure and longing By meditating on the sea as both a physical and a cultural presence the book shines new light on the sea and its indelible place in the human imagination
