various economic and socio political situations Histories of the Middle East Roxani Eleni Margariti, Adam Sabra, Petra Sijpesteijn, 2010-12-20 Dedicated to their teacher Abraham L Udovitch his students offer in this volume a chronologically geographically and thematically wide range of papers united by an emphasis on a close reading of primary sources and the juxtaposition of different genres of narratives Creation of History, Second Edition Michael R. Cosby, 2021-09-30 In this groundbreaking study Michael Cosby uncovers the unknown history of the transformation of the Apostle Barnabas from a peacemaker to a warrior saint Modern Cypriot beliefs about Barnabas diverge significantly from the New Testament depiction of the man as a leader involved in creative solutions to ethnic conflicts in the early church Over the centuries he morphed into a symbol of Greek Cypriot nationalism bequeathing his power to the archbishop in Nicosia This modern mythical St Barnabas resulted from a complicated blend of religious and political maneuvering at key points in the history of Cyprus Orthodox clergy made a consensus builder complicit in the ongoing strife between Greek Cypriots and Turkish Cypriots Cosby's thought provoking book challenges readers to ponder their own beliefs to sort through what is history and what is legend Lost Maps of the Caliphs Yossef Rapoport, Emilie Savage-Smith, 2018-12-11 About a millennium ago in Cairo an unknown author completed a large and richly illustrated book In the course of thirty five chapters this book guided the reader on a journey from the outermost cosmos and planets to Earth and its lands islands features and inhabitants This treatise known as The Book of Curiosities was unknown to modern scholars until a remarkable manuscript copy surfaced in 2000 Lost Maps of the Caliphs provides the first general overview of The Book of Curiosities and the unique insight it offers into medieval Islamic thought Opening with an account of the remarkable discovery of the manuscript and its purchase by the Bodleian Library the authors use The Book of Curiosities to re evaluate the development of astrology geography and cartography in the first four centuries of Islam Their account assesses the transmission of Late Antique geography to the Islamic world unearths the logic behind abstract maritime diagrams and considers the palaces and walls that dominate medieval Islamic plans of towns and ports Early astronomical maps and drawings demonstrate the medieval understanding of the structure of the cosmos and illustrate the pervasive assumption that almost any visible celestial event had an effect upon life on Earth Lost Maps of the Caliphs also reconsiders the history of global communication networks at the turn of the previous millennium It shows the Fatimid Empire and its capital Cairo as a global maritime power with tentacles spanning from the eastern Mediterranean to the Indus Valley and the East African coast As Lost Maps of the Caliphs makes clear not only is The Book of Curiosities one of the greatest achievements of medieval mapmaking it is also a remarkable contribution to the story of Islamic civilization that opens an unexpected window to the medieval Islamic view of the world The History of Cartography Eric W. Wolf, 1992 Dislocating the Orient Daniel Foliard, 2017-04-13 While the twentieth century's conflicting visions and exploitation of the Middle East are well documented the origins of the concept of the Middle East itself have been largely ignored With Dislocating the Orient Daniel Foliard tells the story of how the land was brought into being exploring how maps knowledge and blind ignorance all participated in the construction of this imagined region Foliard vividly illustrates how the British first defined the Middle East as a geopolitical and cartographic region in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries through their imperial maps Until then the region had never been clearly distinguished from the East or the Orient In the course of their colonial activities however the British began to conceive of the Middle East as a separate and distinct part of the world with consequences that continue to be felt today As they reimagined boundaries the British produced disputed and finally dramatically transformed the geography of the area both culturally and physically over the course of their colonial era Using a wide variety of primary texts and historical maps to show how the idea of the Middle East came into being Dislocating the Orient will interest historians of the Middle East the British empire cultural geography and cartography Medieval and Renaissance Famagusta Michael J. K. Walsh, Peter W. Edbury, Nicholas S.H.

Coureas, 2016-12-05 There was a time seven centuries ago when Famagusta's wealth and renown could be compared to that of Venice or Constantinople The Cathedral of St Nicholas in the main square of Famagusta serving as the coronation place for the Crusader Kings of Jerusalem after the fall of Acre in 1291 symbolised both the sophistication and permanence of the French society that built it From the port radiated impressive commercial activity with the major Mediterranean trade centres generating legendary wealth cosmopolitanism and hedonism unsurpassed in the Levant These halcyon days were not to last however and a 15th century observer noted that following the Genoese occupation of the city a malignant devil has become jealous of Famagusta When Venice inherited the city it reconstructed the defences and had some success in revitalising the city's economy But the end for Venetian Famagusta came in dramatic fashion in 1571 following a year long siege by the Ottomans Three centuries of neglect followed which combined with earthquakes plague and flooding left the city in ruins The essays collected in this book represent a major contribution to the study of Medieval and Renaissance Famagusta and its surviving art and architecture and also propose a series of strategies for preserving the city's heritage in the future They will be of particular interest to students and scholars of Gothic Byzantine and Renaissance art and architecture and to those of the Crusades and the Latin East as well as the Military Orders After an introductory chapter surveying the history of Famagusta and its position in the cultural mosaic that is the Eastern Mediterranean the opening section provides a series of insights into the history and historiography of the city There follow chapters on the churches and their decoration as well as the military architecture while the final section looks at the history of conservation efforts and assesses the work that now needs to be done Who's who in the History of Cartography Mary Alice Lowenthal, 1998
