a variety of historical sources such as documents artifacts photos or text passages The contributors investigate particular aspects of sound materiality space and social perceptions to provide a deeper understanding of the Holocaust which have often been overlooked or generalised in previous historical research Yet as we approach an era of no first hand witnesses this multidisciplinary micro historical approach remains a fundamental aspect of Holocaust research and can provide a theoretical framework for future studies The French Who Fought for Hitler Philippe Carrard,2010-09-13 Thousands of Frenchmen volunteered to provide military help to the Nazis during World War II fighting in such places as Belorussia Galicia Pomerania and Berlin Utilizing these soldiers memoirs The French Who Fought for Hitler examines how these volunteers describe their exploits on the battlefield their relations to civilian populations in occupied territories and their sexual prowess It also discusses how the volunteers account for their controversial decisions to enlist to fight to the end and finally to testify Coining the concepts of outcast memory and unlikeable vanquished Philippe Carrard characterizes the type of bitter unrepentant memory at work in the volunteers recollections and situates it on the map of France s collective memory In the process he contributes to the ongoing conversation about memory asking whether all testimonies are fit to be given and preserved and how we should deal with life narratives that uphold positions now viewed as unacceptable The Columbia Guide to the Holocaust Donald L.
