The Informed Reader:

The Informed Reader Charles Bazerman, 1989 Is There a Text in This Class? Stanley Fish, 1982-04-15 Stanley Fish is one of America's most stimulating literary theorists. In this book he undertakes a reexamination of some of criticism's most basic assumptions. He penetrates to the core of the modern debate about interpretation, explodes numerous misleading formulations, and offers a proposal for a new way of thinking about the way we read. Let the Reader Understand Robert M. Fowler, 2001-01-01 Robert Fowler's groundbreaking method, reader response criticism, as a strategy for reading the Gospel of Mark invites contemporary readers to participating in making the meaning of the Gospel Now available in paperback. A Rhetoric of Doing Stephen Paul Witte, Neil Nakadate, Roger Dennis Cherry, 1992 Concerned with both the nature and the practice of discourse, the eighteen essays collected here treat rhetoric as a dynamic enterprise of inquiry, exploration, and application, and in doing so reflect James L. Kinneavy's firm belief in the vital relationship between theory and practice, his commitment to a spirit of accommodation and assimilation that promotes the development of ever more powerful theories and ever more useful practices. A thorough introduction provides the reader with clear summaries of the essays by leading edge theorists, researchers, and teachers of writing and rhetoric. A field context for the ideas presented in this book is provided through the division of the various chapters into four major sections that focus on classical rhetoric and rhetorical theory in historical contexts, on dimensions of discourse, theory, aspects of discourse, communities, and the sorts of knowledge people access and use in producing written texts, on writing in school-related contexts, and on several dimensions of nonacademic writing. A fifth section contains a bibliographic survey and an appreciation of James Kinneavy's work. The exceptional range of these essays makes A Rhetoric of Doing an ecumenical examination of the current state of mind in rhetoric and written communication, a survey and description of what discourse and those in the field of discourse are in fact doing. Writing Jude Reese, 2021-08-30 Writing Jude is a practical application of literary theory to the Epistle of Jude. As such, it explores the nature of language, reading, and interpretation. This is the first such study to be undertaken with an Epistle. Writing Jude contains a chapter on each of the elements that affect interpretation: reader, text, and author. In these broad categories, the book examines various contemporary literary theories and their application to the Epistle of Jude. The book provides a clear introduction to some of the most well-known literary theories of the twentieth century and provides a demonstration of those theories in a particular text. This study breaks new ground in the understanding of both the Epistle of Jude and the application of literary theory to Epistles in general. Readers and Reading Andrew Bennett, 2014-07-15 Much literary criticism focuses on literary producers and their products, but an important part of such work considers the end user, the reader. It asks such questions as: how far can the author condition the response of the reader, and how much does the reader create the meaning of a text? Dr. Bennett's collection includes important essays from such writers and critics as Wolfgang Iser, Mary Jacobus, Roger Chartier, Michel de Certeau, Shoshana Felman, Maurice Blanchot, Paul de Man, and Yves

Bonnefoy It looks in turn at deconstructionist feminist new historicist and psychoanalytical response to the school The book then considers the act of reading itself discussing such issues as the uniqueness of any reading and the difficulties involved in its analysis

But Their Faces Were All Looking Up Eric M. Vanden Eykel, 2016-12-01 This study of the Protevangelium of James explores the interrelationship of authors readers texts and meaning Its central aim is to better understand how the process of repetition gave rise to the narratives of the early Christian movement and how that process continued to fuel the creativity and imagination of future generations Divided into three parts Vanden Eykel addresses first specific episodes in the life of the Virgin consisting of Mary s childhood in the Jerusalem temple PJ 7 9 her spinning thread for the temple veil PJ 10 12 and Jesus birth in a cave outside Bethlehem PJ 17 20 The three episodes present a uniform picture of how the reader s discernment of intertexts can generate new layers of meaning and that these layers may reveal new aspects of the author s meaning some of which the author may not have anticipated

The Imitation of Christ: A Timeless Christian Classic on Following Jesus by Thomas à Kempis — Modern Translation by William C. Contemporary Readings in the Philosophy of Literature David Davies, Carl Matheson, 2008-03-06 What if anything distinguishes works of fiction such as Hamlet and Madame Bovary from biographies news reports or office bulletins Is there a right way to interpret fiction Should we link interpretation to the author s intention Ought our moral unease with works that betray sadistic sexist or racist elements lower our judgments of their aesthetic worth And what when it comes down to it is literature The readings in this collection bring together some of the most important recent work in the philosophy of literature by philosophers such as Martha Nussbaum John Searle and David Lewis The readings explore philosophical issues such as the nature of fiction the status of the author the act of interpretation the role of the emotions in the act of reading the aesthetic and moral value of literary works and other topics central to the philosophy of literature

Creating Identity Jayashree Kamblé, 2023-04-11 While the world often categorizes women in reductive false binaries careerist versus mother feminine versus fierce romance novels a unique form of the love story offer an imaginative space of mingled alternatives for a heroine on her journey to selfhood In Creating Identity Jayashree Kambl examines the romance genre with its sensile flexibility in retaining what audiences find desirable and discarding what is not by asking an important question Who is the romance heroine and what does she want To find the answer Kambl explores how heroines in ten novels reject societal labels and instead remake themselves on their own terms with their own agency Using a truly intersectional approach Kambl combines gender and sexuality Marxism critical race theory and literary criticism to survey various aspects of heroines identities such as sexuality gender work citizenship and race Ideal for readers interested in gender studies and literary criticism Creating Identity highlights a genre in which heroines do not accept that independence and strong loving relationships are mutually exclusive but instead demand both echoing the call from the very readers who have made this genre so popular
