The Illogic Of American Nuclear Strategy:

The Illogic of American Nuclear Strategy Robert Jervis,1984 The Illogic of American Nuclear Strategy Robert Jervis,1986 Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists,1985-02 The Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists is the premier public resource on scientific and technological developments that impact global security Founded by Manhattan Project Scientists the Bulletin s iconic Doomsday Clock stimulates solutions for a safer world The Logic of American Nuclear Strategy Matthew Kroenig,2018-01-25 For decades the reigning scholarly wisdom about nuclear weapons policy has been that the United States only needs the ability to absorb an enemy nuclear attack and still be able to respond with a devastating counterattack So long as the US or any other nation retains such an assured retaliation capability no sane leader would intentionally launch a nuclear attack against it and nuclear deterrence will hold According to this theory possessing more weapons than necessary for a second strike capability is illogical This argument is reasonable but when compared to the empirical record it raises an important puzzle Empirically we see that the United States has always maintained a nuclear posture that is much more robust than a mere second strike capability In The Logic of American Nuclear Strategy Matthew Kroenig challenges the conventional wisdom and explains why a robust nuclear posture above and beyond a mere second strike capability contributes to a state s national security goals In fact when a state has a robust nuclear weapons force such a capability reduces its expected costs in a war provides it with bargaining leverage and ultimately enhances nuclear deterrence This book provides a novel theoretical explanation for why military nuclear advantages translate into geopolitical advantages In so doing it helps resolve one of the most intractable puzzles in international security studies Buoyed by an innovative thesis and a vast array of historical and quantitative evidence The Logic of American Nuclear Strategy will force scholars to reconsider their basic assumptions about the logic of nuclear deterrence Bernard Brodie and the Foundations of American Nuclear Strategy Barry Howard Steiner,1991 Steiner analyzes how and why Brodie s understanding of weapons of unparalleled explosive force led him to posit the need for revolutionary strategic thinking in broadminded analytic method and in the focus upon cities as nuclear targets He shows the tremendous effect Brodie s work had on the intellectual climate in which policy is determined particularly in his frequent combatting of conventional wisdom The Making of Strategy Williamson Murray,1996-05-31 Most writing about strategy has focused on individual strategic theorists or great military leaders This book focuses instead on the messy processes by which rulers and states have framed strategy in the past a subject of vital practical importance to strategists and of great interest to students of strategy and statecraft It consists of 17 case studies that range from fifth century Athens and Ming China to Hitler s Germany Israel and the post 1945 United States The studies analyse within a common interpretive framework precisely how rulers and states have made strategy The introduction emphasises the constants in the rapidly shifting world of the strategist the concluding essay tries to understand the forces that have driven the transformation of strategy since 400 BC and seem likely to continue to transform it in the future

India's Evolving Deterrent Force

Posturing in South Asia Zulfqar Khan, Zafar Khan, 2020-12-16 The book discusses India's evolving deterrent force posturing in South Asia under the conceptual essentials of nuclear revolution when it comes to various combinations of conventional and nuclear forces development and the strategic implications it intentionally or unintentionally poses for the South Asian region. The book talks about how the contemporary restructuring of India's deterrent force posture affects India's nuclear strategy in general and how this in turn could affect the policies of its adversaries China and Pakistan in particular. Authors discuss the motivations of such posturing that broadly covers India's restructuring of its Nuclear Draft Doctrine (DND), the ballistic missile development program including that of its Ballistic Missile Defence (BMD) system and the possibility of conflicts between China, India, and India-Pakistan given their transforming strategic force postures and their recurring adversarial behavior against each other in the Southern Asian region.
