The Oldest Known Writing in Siamese: The Inscription of Phra Ram Khamhæng of Sukhothai Cornelius Beach Bradley, 2020-12-08 In The Oldest Known Writing in Siamese: The Inscription of Phra Ram Khamhæng of Sukhothai Cornelius Beach Bradley delves into the rich historical tapestry of Thailand through the lens of its most ancient written text. This meticulously researched work blends meticulous philological analysis with a broader examination of Siamese history and culture, situating the inscription within the socio-political landscape of the Sukhothai era. Bradley's scholarly approach elucidates not only the linguistic nuances of the inscription but also its significance in understanding the evolution of written Thai and the cultural identity of the region. Cornelius Beach Bradley, a prominent figure in the academic exploration of Southeast Asian studies, was motivated by a profound interest in the intersection of language, history, and culture. Drawing on his background in linguistics and anthropology, Bradley sought to illuminate the underappreciated significance of early Thai inscriptions, positioning them as crucial artifacts in the understanding of Thailand's historical narrative and identity. His passion for the region and its languages fueled the extensive fieldwork and archival research that underpin this work. This book is highly recommended for scholars, historians, and linguists alike, offering invaluable insights into ancient Thai civilization while serving as a cornerstone for further studies in Southeast Asian history. It invites readers to appreciate the intricate relationship between language and culture, providing a deeper understanding of how the past shapes contemporary identities.

Early Tenth Century Java from the Inscriptions Antoinette M. Barrett Jones, 2022-07-04 This book relates in particular to the Javanese inscriptions of the period A.D. 901-929, a time of special interest because of the transfer of royal government from Central to East Java. With the aid of inscriptions from this period as well as before and after it is possible to draw tentative conclusions which seek the explanation for this shift not so much in the area of political but of socio-economic history. This is the first study to pay attention to the role of socio-economic factors in early Javanese history. By examining the Old Javanese inscriptions in detail it is possible to produce valuable information on trade, merchandise, and merchants, on the administrative system as it affected the change in the country side, the sima and the wat, and on the many officials who were involved in the carrying out of the king's orders as they affected the change in tax status of a foundation. The book contains full lists of various categories of items from the inscriptions which provide a basis for the renewed study of Old Javanese epigraphic materials.

The Inscription of Queen Katimala at Semna John Coleman Darnell, 2006-12-31 This is the first complete translation and commentary on the important tableau and inscription of Queen Katimala Karimala at Semna. Proper understanding of the paleography, grammar, and content reveals Katimala to have been a Nubian ruler at the time of the Twenty-First to Twenty-Second Dynasties of Ancient Egypt. She emerges as a political and military leader who took control of at least Lower Nubia in the wake of failed military activities on the part of a male predecessor. Katimala's inscription is not illegible as has often been stated but is a well-composed Lower Nubian example of a politico-religious manifesto applying many of the conventions of early Egyptian literary and historical compositions

The Inscription of Things Thomas Kelly, 2023-11-14 Why would an inkstone have a poem inscribed on it Early modern Chinese writers did not limit themselves to working with brushes and ink and their texts were not confined to woodblock printed books or the boundaries of the paper page Poets carved lines of verse onto cups ladles animal horns seashells walking sticks boxes fans daggers teapots and musical instruments Calligraphers left messages on the implements ordinarily used for writing on paper These inscriptions terse compositions in verse or epigrammatic prose relate in complex ways to the objects on which they are written Thomas Kelly develops a new account of the relationship between Chinese literature and material culture by examining inscribed objects from the late Ming and early to mid Qing dynasties He considers how the literary qualities of inscriptions interact with the visual and physical properties of the things that bear them Kelly argues that inscribing an object became a means for authors to grapple with the materiality and technologies of writing Facing profound social upheavals from volatility in the marketplace to the violence of dynastic transition writers turned to inscriptions to reflect on their investments in and dependence on the permanence of the written word Shedding new light on cultures of writing in early modern China The Inscription of Things broadens understandings of the links between the literary and the material Elijah's Cave on Mount Carmel and its Inscriptions Asher Ovadia, Pierri Rosario, 2015-09-30 Artistic and epigraphic evidence suggest that Elijah's Cave on the western slope of Mt Carmel had been used as a pagan cultic place possibly a shrine devoted to Ba'al Carmel identified with Zeus Jupiter as well as to Pan and Eros as secondary deities The Church Bells of Sussex, with the Inscriptions of All the Bells in the County Amherst Daniel Tyssen, 1864
