Stolen Innocence Memoir:

Stolen Innocence Erin Merryn, 2010-01-01 Eleven year old Erin Merryn's life was transformed on the night she was sexually abused by her cousin someone she loved and trusted As the abuse continued and as she was forced to see her abuser over and over again in social situations she struggled with self doubt panic attacks nightmares and the weight of whether or not to tell her terrible secret It wasn't until a traumatic series of events showed her the cost of silence that she chose to speak out in the process destroying both her family and the last of her innocence Through her personal diary written during the years of her abuse Erin Merryn shares her journey through pain and confusion to inner strength and ultimately forgiveness Raw powerful and unflinchingly honest Stolen Innocence is the inspiring story of one girl's struggle to become a woman and a bright light on the pain and devastation of abuse Stolen Innocence is written with conviction and clarity Erin Merryn doesn't hold back and I respect her honesty and openness By the end of the book I thought I was reading passages from a much older adult than a high school senior Erin has grown into a strong wise intelligent perceptive spiritual caring adult Susan Reedquist The Children's Advocacy Center

Camp Paradox Barbara Graham, 2014-03-25 This haunting yet wry coming of age memoir set at an all girls summer camp fast forwards decades into the future as Barbara Graham grapples with the knowledge that the love affair she believed she'd shared with her female camp counselor in the 1960s fits every definition of sexual abuse The book will appeal to anyone who has experienced a betrayal of trust or conflated love and abuse

My Stolen Innocence Ameerah Ali, 2022-04-13 I ALWAYS KNEW SOMETHING was wrong with me From the very beginning starting with my conception and how I came into the world something was definitely wrong My mother was a teenager in the 1970s but by the age of fifteen word was that she was running around with her mother's boyfriend and that I share the same dad as my aunt and uncle At sixteen she became pregnant and delivered me into the world Unmarried poor shamed and shunned my mother was told that under no circumstances could she bring me home to live with her Instead I was ushered into the foster care system For many years I wore my mother's shame like a badge of personal guilt It shaped my world and defined me I was embarrassed as a child and grew up to be an embarrassed adult with low self esteem Struggling to be heard in a world where I had no voice I was quickly pronounced guilty of sins that were not my own Though there was a brief time in my life when I was surrounded by unusual comfort persecution seemed to be my natural inheritance Growing up in and out of foster care homes maturing as a motherless teenage girl sleeping on other people's couches and floors in lieu of a bed I stumbled awkwardly into adulthood There were times when I found encouragement and comfort in the inspired words and instructions of the Bible Every day I prayed for God's guidance and daily I read His Word for a message As I approached my thirties still longing for direction feeling like what was often pointed out as wrong in my character was actually right I began to search for what God wanted me to do with my life One day I opened the Bible and began praying for an answer to a question I didn't even know I had asked I read a verse that said simply Tell the people At that moment I knew that I had to share my story The Bible says that God will make all wrongs right Telling my story sharing my life has allowed me to find power in my pain hopefully the power to inspire others For me the singular act of being able to muster up enough courage to share my story has in itself proven to be personally cathartic and empowering I can still recall a time in my life when I absolutely refused to talk about my childhood Rather I always tried to avoid the conversation if someone brought up my past At the same time I told myself that I didn't need anyone rehashing such painful episodes in my life I learned early that I could regurgitate my own pain all by myself In fact as a child everything around me accused me of being different My biological family my foster care family television and school all reinforced what I knew to be true There was something wrong with me These hurtful encounters with my immediate environment deposited feelings of inadequacy in my soul However I gradually began to understand and believe that the things I had endured were an integral part of my God given path Today I am convinced that my pain scarred childhood uniquely qualifies me to use the gifts God has given me to share my story of healing with others
