Abstract

The representation of Malaya (presently known as Malaysia) was evident through the works of both trained and amateur artists, among them Robert Smith, William Havell, James George, James Wathen and William J. Huggins. Besides these artists, representation of Malaya was also done by British officers who were sent to Malaya during the 19th century. One prominent figure was Frank Althelstane Swettenham (1850-1946), the first Resident General of the Federated Malay States (FMS) (1896-1901). This paper will examine some of his travel sketches of the Malayan landscape that inconspicuously reflected the British empire's ideology of industrialization, colonization, and exploration, and to the extreme extent of resource extraction and exploitation. Although it can be argued that the production of such imageries could be seen as a tool of anthropology or as a form of documentation and record, inevitably, such imageries were clues in understanding the changing landscapes and representation of landscape during the 19th century Malaya.

Stories and Sketches by Sir Frank Swettenham. Selected and Introduced by William R. Roff. [With a Portrait.].

Sir Frank Athelstane SWETTENHAM, William Robert ROFF, 1967 Stories and Sketches by Sir Frank Swettenham Frank Swettenham, 1967 Stories and Sketches by Sir Frank Swettenham , 1967 Malay Sketches Sir Frank Athelstane Swettenham, 1891-01-01 To begin to understand the Malay you must live in his country speak his language respect his faith be interested in his interests humour his prejudices sympathise with and help him in trouble and share his pleasures and possibly his risks Only thus can you hope to win his confidence Only through that confidence can you hope to understand the inner man and this knowledge can therefore only come to those who have the opportunity and use it So far the means of studying Malays in their own country where alone they are seen in their true character have fallen to few Europeans and a very small proportion of them have shown an inclination to get to the hearts of the people There are a hundred thousand Malays in Perak and some more in other parts of the Peninsula and the white man whose interest in the race is strong enough may not only win confidence but the devotion that is ready to give life itself in the cause of friendship The Scripture says There is no greater thing than this and in the end of the nineteenth century that is a form of friendship all too rare Fortunately this is a thing you cannot buy but to gain it is worth some effort The real Malay is a short thick set well built man with straight black hair a dark brown complexion thick nose and lips and bright intelligent eyes His disposition is generally kindly his manners are polite and easy Never cringing he is reserved with strangers and suspicious though he does not show it He is courageous and trustworthy in the discharge of an undertaking but he is extravagant fond of borrowing money and very slow in repaying it He is a good talker speaks in parables quotes proverbs and wise saws has a strong sense of humour and is very fond of a good joke He takes an interest in the affairs of his neighbours and is consequently a gossip He is a Muhammadan and a fatalist but he is also very superstitious He never drinks intoxicants he is rarely an opium smoker But he is fond of gambling cock fighting and kindred sports He is by nature a sportsman catches and tames elephants is a skilful fisherman and thoroughly at home in a boat Above all things he is conservative to a degree is proud and fond of his country and his people venerates his ancient customs and traditions fears his Rajas and has a proper respect for constituted authority while he looks askance on all innovations and will resist their sudden introduction But if he has time to examine them carefully and they are not thrust upon him he is willing to be convinced of their advantage At the same time he is a good imitative learner and when he has energy and ambition enough for the task makes a good mechanic He is however lazy to a degree is without method or order of any kind knows no regularity even in the hours of his meals and considers time as of no importance His house is untidy even dirty but he bathes twice a day and is very fond of personal adornment in the shape of smart clothes A Malay is intolerant of insult or slight it is something that to him should be wiped out in blood He will brood over a real or fancied stain on his honour until he is possessed by the desire for revenge If he cannot wreak it on the offender

he will strike out at the first human being that comes in his way male or female old or young It is this state of blind fury this vision of blood that produces the mok The Malay has often been called treacherous I question whether he deserves the reproach more than other men He is courteous and expects courtesy in return and he understands only one method of avenging personal insults Stories and Sketches by Sir Frank Swettenham Sir Frank Athelstane Swettenham,1967

The Myth of the Lazy Native Syed Hussein Alatas,2013-05-13 The Myth of the Lazy Native is Syed Hussein Alatas widely acknowledged critique of the colonial construction of Malay Filipino and Javanese natives from the 16th to the 20th century Drawing on the work of Karl Mannheim and the sociology of knowledge Alatas analyses the origins and functions of such myths in the creation and reinforcement of colonial ideology and capitalism The book constitutes in his own words an effort to correct a one sided colonial view of the Asian native and his society and will be of interest to students and scholars of colonialism post colonialism sociology and South East Asian Studies The Cambridge History of the English Short Story Dominic Head,2016-11-14 The Cambridge History of the English Short Story is the first comprehensive volume to capture the literary history of the English short story Charting the origins and generic evolution of the English short story to the present day and written by international experts in the field this book covers numerous transnational and historical connections between writers modes and forms of transmission Suitable for English literature students and scholars of the English short story generally it will become a standard work of reference in its field A History of Malaysia Barbara Watson Andaya,Leonard Y. Andaya,2001-01-01 Malaysia s multicultural society supports one of the most dynamic economies in Asia This completely revised new edition of the standard text first published twenty years ago traces the history of the country from early times to the present day The authors give particular attention to the evolution of Malay politics and their close links with indigenous groups who lived on the oceans and in the deep jungles of the region from Sumatra to Borneo This provides the background to the establishment of the Malay port of Melaka which was conquered by the Portuguese in 1511 foreshadowing the establishment of a British colonial regime in the late nineteenth century Although the large numbers of Chinese and Indian migrants who arrived to work in the tin and rubber industries contributed to economic expansion colonial policies did not encourage communal interaction The authors trace the process by which post independence leaders in Malaya attempted to counter the legacy of ethnic hostility while answering Malay demands for an affirmation of their rights and a stronger commitment to Islam The incorporation of the Borneo states of Sarawak and Sabah into the Federation of Malaysia in 1963 rendered the goal of welding a nation from areas that were geographically separated and culturally disparate even more problematic The intense emotions attached to issues of race were made tragically evident in the racial riots of May 1969 which this book sees as a watershed in modern Malaysian history As Malaysia enters the twenty first century the government is determined to oversee the transition to an economy focused on manufacturing and advanced technology and to eliminate poverty and the association between occupation and race While several recent studies deal with the impact of colonial rule and Malaysia's spectacular economic transition this book is unique because it tracks developments from early times and identifies continuities as well as change Combining the authors specialist knowledge of precolonial sources with the most recent contemporary research this new edition reinforces the position of A History of Malaysia position as a standard reference for all those interested in the historical processes which led to the emergence of this culturally varied and economically energetic country

Extreme Violence and the 'British Way' Michelle Gordon, 2020-10-29 Analysing three cases of British colonial violence that occurred in the latter half of the 19th century this book argues that all three share commonalities including the role of racial prejudices in justifying the perpetration of extreme colonial violence Exploring the connections and comparisons between the Perak War 1875-76 the Hut Tax Revolt in Sierra Leone 1898-99 and the Anglo Egyptian War of Reconquest in the Sudan 1896-99 Gordon highlights the significance of decision making processes communication between London and the periphery and the influence of individual colonial administrators in outbreaks of violence This study reveals the ways in which racial prejudices the advocacy of a British civilising mission and British racial superiority informed colonial administrators decisions on the ground as well as the rationalisation of extreme violence Responding to a neglect of British colonial atrocities within the historiography of colonial violence this work demonstrates the ways in which Britain was just as willing and able as other European Empires to resort to extreme measures in the face of indigenous resistance or threats to the British imperial project
