The Middle East In Crime Fiction:

The Middle East in Crime Fiction Reeve S. Simon, 1989 The Cambridge Companion to World Crime Fiction Jesper Gulddal, Stewart King, Alistair Rolls, 2022-04-21 Accessible yet comprehensive this first systematic account of crime fiction across the globe offers a deep and thoroughly nuanced understanding of the genre's transnational history Offering a lucid account of the major theoretical issues and comparative perspectives that constitute world crime fiction this book introduces readers to the international crime fiction publishing industry the translation and circulation of crime fiction international crime fiction collections the role of women in world crime fiction and regional forms of crime fiction It also illuminates the past and present of crime fiction in various supranational regions across the world including East and South Asia the Arab World Sub Saharan Africa Europe and Scandinavia as well as three spheres defined by a shared language namely the Francophone Lusophone and Hispanic worlds Thoroughly researched and broad in scope this book is as valuable for general readers as for undergraduate and postgraduate students of popular fiction and world literature Mediterranean Crime Fiction Barbara Pezzotti, 2023-11-23 By exploring the transcultural nature of Mediterranean crime fiction Barbara Pezzotti advocates for a regional reading of the genre The Routledge Companion to Crime Fiction Janice Allan, Jesper Gulddal, Stewart King, Andrew Pepper, 2020-04-07 The Routledge Companion to Crime Fiction is a comprehensive introduction to crime fiction and crime fiction scholarship today Across 45 original chapters specialists in the field offer innovative approaches to the classics of the genre as well as ground breaking mappings of emerging themes and trends The volume is divided into three parts Part I Approaches rearticulates the key theoretical questions posed by the crime genre Part II Devices examines the textual characteristics of crime fiction Part III Interfaces investigates the complex ways in which crime fiction engages with the defining issues of its context from policing and forensic science through war migration and narcotics to digital media and the environment Rigorously argued and engagingly written the volume is indispensable both to students and scholars of crime fiction The Middle East Gary S. Gregg, 2005-07-21 For over a decade the Middle East has monopolized news headlines in the West Journalists and commentators regularly speculate that the region's turmoil may stem from the psychological momentum of its cultural traditions or of a tribal or fatalistic mentality Yet few studies of the region's cultural psychology have provided a critical synthesis of psychological research on Middle Eastern societies Drawing on autobiographies literary works ethnographic accounts and life history interviews The Middle East A Cultural Psychology offers the first comprehensive summary of psychological writings on the region reviewing works by psychologists anthropologists and sociologists that have been written in English Arabic and French Rejecting stereotypical descriptions of the Arab mind or Muslim mentality Gary Gregg adopts a life span development framework examining influences on development in infancy early childhood late childhood and adolescence as well as on identity formation in early and mature adulthood He views patterns of development in the context of recent work in cultural psychology and compares Middle Eastern patterns less with Western middle class norms than with those described for the region's neighbors Hindu India sub Saharan Africa and the Mediterranean shore of Europe The research presented in this volume overwhelmingly suggests that the region's strife stems much less from a stubborn adherence to tradition and resistance to modernity than from widespread frustration with broken promises of modernization with the slow and halting pace of economic progress and democratization A sophisticated account of the Middle East's cultural psychology The Middle East provides students researchers policy makers and all those interested in the culture and psychology of the region with invaluable insight into the lives families and social relationships of Middle Easterners as they struggle to reconcile the lure of Westernized life styles with traditional values

Transnational Crime Fiction Maarit Piipponen, Helen Mäntymäki, Marinella Rodi-Risberg, 2020-10-27 Focusing on contemporary crime narratives from different parts of the world this collection of essays explores the mobility of crimes criminals and investigators across social cultural and national borders The essays argue that such border crossings reflect on recent sociocultural transformations and geopolitical anxieties to create an image of networked and interconnected societies where crime is not easily contained The book further analyses crime texts wider sociocultural and affective significance by examining the global mobility of the genre itself across cultures languages and media Underlining the global reach and mobility of the crime genre the collection analyses types and representations of mobility in literary and visual crime narratives inviting comparisons between texts crimes and mobilities in a geographically diverse context The collection ultimately understands mobility as an object of study and a critical lens through which transformations in our globalised world can be examined
