The Sentinel Islanders M. Sasikumar, 2023-01-01 The Sentinel Islanders also called the Sentinelese are one of the five Particularly Vulnerable Tribal Groups (PVTGs) of the Andaman and Nicobar islands They live in the North Sentinel Island of the Andaman group of Islands situated in the Bay of Bengal They are perhaps the only truly isolated hunter gatherer tribal community in the world today Of the five PVTGs the Sentinel Islanders are usually described as the most uncontacted and most reclusive people on earth Till today this group has maintained their independent existence repelling all attempts to directly engage with and contact them They remained steadfast in opposition to all the efforts of the colonial and post colonial administration to contain them with the might of their bows and arrows Incredibly they also managed to survive the 2004 Indian Ocean Tsunami which had a devastating effect on the people of the Island groups Curiosity about their lifestyles has endured all these years in all sections of society since 1771 when an East India Company vessel sailing past their island spotted the presence of lights there It was however in November December 2018 that the Sentinelese received international attention when an American national went missing after having ventured to encroach upon their land It was alleged that a Sentinelese killed him after warning him twice to leave the island This has further reinforced the image of ferocity of a people who do not want any interference from the outside world in their subsistence patterns and long to remain as the masters of their island In this book an attempt has been made to understand their way of life from an anthropological perspective in the light of available historical and anthropological evidences Handbook of Pleistocene Archaeology of Africa Amanuel Beyin,David K. In the Forest Vishvajit Pandya, 2009-04-16 There are always at least two histories of encounter or contact as each party would tell the story differently but where and when is it really the first contact and for whom This book deploys an analytical framework developed from Semiotics to have both sides of the story address each other It is ethnography of dialogue emerging from textual representation by outsiders and its relationship to visual response and presentations by the Andaman Islanders that this book aims to present as the critical ethnography of history The section on Visuality looks at how the Other is incorporated into an organized knowledge system including Ongee myths and songs about outsiders and the early photographs of tribal people by British settlers and ethnographers The section on Materiality concerns the investment in things made to influence natural processes or to distinguish the human body and discusses how they are transacted between cultures that come into contact The concluding section on history addresses encounters and developments in which the experiences of both tribal and settler are implicated more thoroughly than in the transaction of objects Thus juxtaposing alternative perspectives on change indicates areas of experience unaccounted for in the dominant discourse and shows the provisionality of images
