Road to Mound Grove Betty B. Cantwell, 2014-03-20 Road to Mound Grove a memoir tells the story of Betty Jeans family in rural southeastern Oklahoma during the Great Depression. In challenging times they move from one house to another along Indian Road until they stumble on a home of their very own. A quiet little girl Betty Jean attempts to do the right thing but accidentally discovers trouble. Betty Jeans family and neighbors lack electricity running water and indoor bathrooms. A typical coal oil lamp glows in every home and water is routinely drawn from a well. She attends school at Mound Grove where Miss Vergie and Miss Agnes teach eight grades in two rooms. Although her daddy works from daylight until nearly dark with President Roosevelt's WPA building roads and bridges her family barely makes ends meet. In spite of the harsh conditions Betty Jean has a life filled with love laughter and singing a life where she learns to make something out of nothing. The story of Betty Jeans family will continue in a sequel Growing Up at Mound Grove a special place where neighbors lives are intertwined for generations.
