Stories Of The Klamath National Forest The First 50 Years 19051955:

Stories of the Klamath National Forest Gilbert W. Davies, Florice M. Frank, 1992 Harry E. Burke and John M. Miller, Pioneers in Western Forest Entomology Boyd E. Wickman, 2005 This history was compiled from the memoirs diaries and other personal documents of the two forest entomologists in charge of the first forest insect laboratories on the west coast It traces the lives of the two pioneers from 1902 to 1952 as they pursued their careers in the USDA Bureau of Entomology Division of Forest Insect Investigations Cooperative bark beetle control projects with the USDA Forest Service Park Service and private timber owners guided much of their early activities Later when the laboratories were located on university campuses cooperative research was undertaken with Forest Service Research Stations The focus shifted to more basic research and particularly studies on the silvicultural management of bark beetle populations History Line ,1993

General Technical Report PNW-GTR ,2005 The Lure of the Forest ,2005 For the Forest Service s 100 anniversary Region Five retirees established an oral history committee They then conducted over fifty oral interviews from selected members of the regions past workforce Selected References Concerning the USDA Forest Service ,1995 The Ever-changing View Anthony Godfrey, 2005 United States Department of Agriculture Forest Service Pacific Southwest Region

Memorable Forest Fires Gilbert W. Davies, Florice M. Frank, 1995 Contemporary California Indian Basketry Bev Ortiz, 2008 Baskets have been woven for at least 10 000 years in the area now known as the western United States Originally created by California Indians as utilitarian objects for everyday family use by the late 1800s baskets had become a commodity that provided much needed income Collector interest in baskets resulted in an expanding literature that focused on their collectability promoted their making with largely store bought imported materials and compared their techniques of fabrication While most basketry literature whether scholarly or popular has largely concerned itself with the object form design materials technique and function since 1970 the literature on basketry has begun to shift its focus to the process and the weavers themselves The present study begins by surveying the worldwide literature about basketry with an emphasis on California Indian basketry It recounts the history of the practice of basketry in California which began to decline in the 1930s because of lack of need and interest the economics of the Depression and a desire to not stand out as Indian Attention then shifts to organizational efforts by California Indians since 1940 to reverse this trend By establishing basketry organizations California Indian women sought to gain respect for their cultures within the dominant society while at the same time rebuilding pride among the young Based on 30 years of field research with hundreds of California Indian basketmakers statewide the present study examines the effectiveness of organizational efforts to renew basketry as well as impediments to its continued practice including 1 lack of time to learn and weave and 2 lack of access to properly managed basketry materials growing in safe areas free from chemical contamination After detailing these issues and the solutions that California Indians have devised to resolve them the study illustrates the diverse reasons why California Indians continue to make baskets and the varied ways they learn through the stories of individual weavers including biographies of four elder basketmakers whose influence was widespread The humanity tenacity and resourcefulness of the weavers are highlighted as they continue to find new ways to bring an old practice into the future Books in Print ,2002
