The Mental World of Stuart Women Sara Heller Mendelson, 1987 Margaret Cavendish Mary Rich Apha Behn

Utopian and Science Fiction by Women Jane L. Donawerth, Carol A. Kolmerten, 1994-07-01 This collection speaks to common themes and strategies in women's writing about their different worlds from Margaret Cavendish's seventeenth century Blazing World of the North Pole to the men-less islands of the French writer Scudery to the eighteenth and nineteenth century utopias of Shelley and Gaskell and science fiction pulps finishing with the more contemporary feminist fictions of Le Guin Wittig Piercy and Michison It shows that these fictions historically speak to each other and together amount to a literary tradition of women's writing about a better place

The Matter of Revolution John Rogers, 2018-09-05 John Rogers here addresses the literary and ideological consequences of the remarkable if improbable alliance between science and politics in seventeenth century England He looks at the cultural intersection between the English and Scientific Revolutions concentrating on a body of work created in a brief but potent burst of intellectual activity during the period of the Civil Wars the Interregnum and the earliest years of the Stuart Restoration Rogers traces the broad implications of a seemingly outlandish cultural phenomenon the intellectual imperative to forge an ontological connection between physical motion and political action

Protestantism, Politics, and Women in Britain, 1660-1714 Melinda Zook, 2013-04-07 This compelling new study examines the intersection between women religion and politics in the late seventeenth and early eighteenth century in Britain It demonstrates that what inspired Dissenting and Anglican women to political action was their concern for the survival of the Protestant religion both at home and abroad

Susanna Wesley Susanna Wesley,1997-06-26 Susanna Wesley long celebrated in Methodist mythology as mother of the movement s founders now takes place as a practical theologian in her own right This collection of her letters spiritual diary and longer treatises only one of which was published in her lifetime shows her to be more than the nurturing mother of Wesleyan legend It also reveals her to be a well educated woman in conversation with contemporary theological philosophical and literary works Her quotations and allusions include Locke Pascal and Herbert as well as a number of now forgotten theologians In some of her work one can distinguish doctrinal and spiritual leanings such as Arminianism and Christian perfection that would later find wide expression in the spread of Methodism Further her writings demonstrate her readiness for conscience s sake to stand up to the men in her life father husband and sons and the three incarnations of English Protestantism they represented respectively Puritanism the Established Church and the new Methodist movement Tracing these incidents in her letters and diaries a reader can begin to understand how spirituality even an otherwise conservative one in rather restrictive times can serve to empower the voice of women

Women, Space and Utopia 1600-1800 Nicole Pohl,2017-05-15 The first full length study of women s utopian spatial imagination in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries this book explores the sophisticated correlation between identity and social space The investigation is mainly driven by conceptual questions and thus seeks to link theoretical debates about space gender and utopianism to historiographic debates about the gendered social production of space As Pohl s primary aim is to demonstrate how women writers explore the complex gender politics of space specific attention is given to spaces that feature widely in contemporary utopian imagination Arcadia the palace the convent the harem and the country house The early modern writers Lady Mary Wroth and Margaret Cavendish seek to recreate Paradise in their versions of Eden and Jerusalem the one yearns for Arcadia the other for Solomon s Temple Margaret Cavendish and Mary Astell redefine the convent as an emancipatory space dismissing its symbolic meaning as a confining and surveilled architecture The utopia of the country house in the work of Delarivier Manley Sarah Scott and Mary Hamilton will reveal how women writers resignify the traditional metonym of the country estate The study will finish with an investigation of Oriental tales and travel writing by Ellis Cornelia Knight Lady Mary Montagu Elizabeth Craven and Lady Hester Stanhope who unveil the seraglio as a location for a Western specifically masculine discourse on Orientalism despotism and female sexuality and offers their own utopian judgment

The Rover - Second Edition Aphra Behn,1999-02-10 Increasingly Aphra Behn the first woman professional writer is also regarded as one of the most important writers of the 17th century The Rover her most famous and most accomplished play is in many ways firmly in the tradition of Restoration drama Willmore the title character is a rake and a libertine and the comedy feeds on sexual innuendo intrigue and wit But the laughter that the play insights has a biting edge to it and the sexual intrigue an unsettling depth As Anne Russell points out in her introduction to this edition there are three options for women in the society represented in The Rover marriage the convent or prostitution In this marriage economy the witty and pragmatic virgin Hellena learns how to survive while the prostitute Angellica Bianca can retain her autonomy only so long as she remains free from romantic love It seems that in this world women can only be free by the anonymity of disguise yet the mask is also the mark of the prostitute And paradoxically disguise is the device that in many ways drives the plot towards marriage Enormously popular through the eighteenth century The Rover is now once again widely performed Filled with the play of ideas it is one of the most amusing entertaining and unsettling of comedies Selected Philosophical and Scientific Writings Emilie Du Châtelet, 2009-09-15 Though most historians remember her as the mistress of Voltaire Emilie Du Châtelet 1706-49 was an accomplished writer in her own right who published multiple editions of her scientific writings during her lifetime as well as a translation of Newton's Principia Mathematica that is still the standard edition of that work in French Had she been a man her reputation as a member of the eighteenth century French intellectual elite would have been assured In the 1970s feminist historians of science began the slow work of recovering Du Châtelet's writings and her contributions to history and philosophy For this edition Judith P Zinsser has selected key sections from Du Châtelet's published and unpublished works as well as related correspondence part of her little known critique of the Old and New Testaments and a treatise on happiness that is a refreshingly uncensored piece of autobiography making all of them available for the first time in English The resulting volume will recover Châtelet's place in the pantheon of French letters and culture
