The Dambusters—'Was the Raid Worthwhile?' John Sweetman, 2025-11-04 On 16 May 1943 617 Squadron's first mission saw 19 Avro Lancasters deploy bouncing bombs to breach the Mohne and Eder dams inflicting significant damage on Nazi Germany's industrial Ruhr region On the evening of 16 May 1943 nineteen Avro Lancasters took off from RAF Scampton to undertake 617 Squadron's first offensive attack since its formation a few weeks earlier Loaded with Barnes Wallis newly designed bouncing bombs the Bomber Command crews set course for their targets the vital Mohne Eder and Sorpe dams that served the Ruhr the Third Reich's industrial heartland By the time the survivors began landing back at base at 03 11 hours the following morning eight of the Lancasters had been shot down However both the Mohne and Eder dams had been breached while the Sorpe was damaged The flood waters that the attacks unleashed poured downstream wreaking havoc on the surrounding countryside Albert Speer Hitler's Minister of Armaments and War Production later wrote That night employing just a few bombers the British came close to a success which would have been greater than anything they had achieved hitherto with a commitment of thousands of bombers In 1990 the renowned historian and author Dr John Sweetman published his seminal work on the events before during and after Operation Chastise His book was the result of decades of research into the famous attack in the course of which Dr Sweetman corresponded with or interviewed many of the individuals involved from the scientists to senior officers and from groundcrew to the very airmen who delivered Barnes Wallis bouncing bombs to the dams Such was the relationships that developed over the years Dr Sweetman became a close friend to many of these individuals and their families Some of the information contained in the interview transcripts and letters he received was included in his original book much more however was never used This is particularly the case with the many letters and conversations which Dr Sweetman received or had after his book was first published much of which adds to or elaborates on the narrative of the events in May 1943 Dr John Sweetman has delved into his remarkable archive of material to present unseen sections of it here for the historian or general reader for the very first time

The Complete Dambusters Charles Foster, 2018-05-08 On 16 May 1943 nineteen Lancaster aircraft from the RAF's 617 Squadron set off to attack the great dams in the industrial heart of Germany Flying at a height of 60ft they dropped a series of bombs which bounced across the water and destroyed two of their targets thereby creating a legend The one off operation combined an audacious method of attack technically brilliant flying and visually spectacular results But while the story of Operation Chastise is well known most of the 133 Dambusters who took part in the Dams Raid have until now been just names on a list They came from all parts of the UK and the Commonwealth and beyond and each of them was someone s son or brother someone s husband or father This is the first book to present their individual stories and celebrate their skill heroism and for many sacrifice
