Environmental Communication and Travel Journalism Lyn

McGaurr,2015-07-16 Travel journalism about natural attractions is environmental communication at the cusp of consumerism and concern Countries and regions that market forests rivers and wildlife to international tourists drive place of origin brand recognition that benefits exporters in other sectors Place branding in such destinations is not just PR for environmentally sustainable development and consumption but also a political enterprise Environmental Communication and Travel Journalism considers tourism public relations as elite reputation management and applies models of political conflict and source media relations to the analysis of the soft genre of travel journalism The book seeks to understand how in whose interests and against what odds discourses of cosmopolitanism and place branding influence the way travel journalists represent vulnerable and contested environments Informed by interviews with journalists and their sources Environmental Communication and Travel Journalism identifies and theorises networks cultures discursive strategies and multiple loyalties that can assist or interrupt flows of environmental concern in the cosmopolitan public sphere The book should be of interest to scholars of environmental communication environmental politics journalism tourism marketing and public relations

Hayhoe,2022-02-15 Take a tour of ten national parks in this overview of the ways in which they can be accessed by those with physical sensory and learning limitations and their companions The National Parks of the U S are some of the most sought after travel destinations in the world But a visit to any one of them may seem daunting to someone with hearing seeing or other physical challenges What many may not know is that the National Parks offer help to those with access needs Here Simon Hayhoe takes readers on a tour of ten National Parks and the accessibility options available to visitors and their companions He covers three regions of national parks in the east center and west of the US The eastern parks include Acadia National Park in Maine the Everglades National Park in Florida and the Gettysburg National Military Park in Pennsylvania The central parks include Grand Canyon National Park in Arizona Rocky Mountain National Park in Colorado Yellowstone National Park which is mostly in Wyoming and Zion National Park in Utah The western parks include Denali National Park in Alaska Olympic National Park in Washington State and Yosemite National Park in California Knowing how and where to tap into access points is the first step on your journey So come along and let this work guide you Blue Ridge Commons Kathryn Newfont,2012 In the late twentieth century residents of the Blue Ridge mountains in western North Carolina fiercely resisted certain environmental efforts even while launching aggressive initiatives of their own Kathryn Newfont provides context for those events by examining the environmental history of this region over the course of three hundred years identifying what she calls commons environmentalism a cultural strain of conservation in American history that has gone largely unexplored Efforts in the 1970s to expand federal wilderness areas in the Pisgah and Nantahala national forests generated strong opposition. For many mountain residents, the idea of unspoiled wilderness seemed economically unsound, historically dishonest, and elitist. Newfont shows that local people's sense of commons environmentalism required access to the forests that they viewed as semipublic places for hunting, fishing, and working. Policies that removed large tracts from use were perceived as enclosure and resisted. Incorporating deep archival work and years of interviews and conversations with Appalachian residents, Blue Ridge Commons reveals a tradition of people building robust forest protection movements on their own terms. p. 4 of cover
